NATION-WIDE GAS RATIONING BY JULY 1 SEEN

Capital Ponders Curtailing of All Transportation Systems of Country.

OHIO'S NEXT, WARNING

Representative Says Eastern Part of State Will Be Hit Within 2 Weeks.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Nation-wide rationing of transportation was forecast in congressional circles today and some informed legislators said there were strong indications that the rationing of gasoline in 17 eastern states might be extended to include the whole country after July 1.

Speaking at Altoona, Pa., last night, Representative James W. Van Zandt, (R., Pa.) predicted that gas rationing would come to eastern Ohio even sooner—perhaps within two weeks. He addressed a meeting of gasoline dealers and distributors.

Western Pennsylvania escaped to date, he said, only because of a 135,000 barrel surplus "around Oil City and Titusville." When this is gone, he added, "western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio will be rationed."

As footsore easterners formed long lines around registration places for the third day to obtain ration cards that expire June 30, Senator Aiken (R., Vt.) said he believed that before that date arrived plans would have been worked out to limit the use of domestic transportation systems.

He predicted that government control of the movement of all products carried by rail and water would be reflected in the rationing of gasoline on a nation-wide basis, a development Senator Downey (D., Calif.) predicted would come in any event.

Downey said he looked for a continued decline in gasoline and fuel oil reserves on the eastern seaboard, despite efforts to patch together a pipeline which might be capable of delivering 100,000 barrels of oil daily from Texas fields.

This meat, Downey added, that eastern motorists were likely to find their quotas even skimpier after July 1 than during the first rationing period which goes into effect Friday. The least allowance in the east will be three gallons a week for "non-essential" motoring.

BANS RETREADS

Canadian Order Limits Buying of Usable Tires, Tubes.

OTTAWA, Ont.—(INS)—A drastic tire rationing order making it illegal for approximately one million or more Canadians to obtain usable tires or tubes or retreading services was announced today by Munitions and Supply Minister Clarence Howe.

Effective at midnight tonight, the order limits for the first time the purchase of retreaded tires, used tires, used tubes, and retreading services. It also tightens existing control over new tires and tubes.

"Canada's rubber shortage is more serious than ever," said Howe. "Synthetic production will not begin before many months and it will not benefit the civilian user."

KEEP TO LEFT

Pushcart Pushers Told to Follow Pedestrian Traffic Rules.

ZANESVILLE — (U.P.) — Attention, push-cart pushers. You are pedestrians, and must push your carts on the left side of the road, facing traffic, according to Ohio courts.

Interpreting Ohio's new uniform traffic code, the fifth district appeals court has confirmed a decision of Common Pleas Judge P. H. Tannehill, who denied $1,650 in damages to Leslie Dilley, a city-licensed push-cart operator who was struck by an automobile two days after the new code became effective.

FLIERS KILLED

Planes Collide In Mid-Air Near Miami Naval Station.

MIAMI, Fla.—(INS)—Two fliers were killed in a mid-air collision near the Miami naval air station late yesterday, naval officials revealed today.

NEAR DECISION ON TAX RATES

House Committeemen Vote to Cut Exemptions to $500 and $1200 Next Year.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau today advocated a minimum tax of "several dollars" on every one who files an income tax return. Under existing laws, millions of people whose personal exemptions and other deductions exceed their income pay no tax at all, even though they have to file returns.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — The house ways and means committee today neared a decision on 1932 income tax rates after voting to cut personal exemptions so low that many housemaids and part-time workers would have to file returns next year.

Even buck privates in the army—if the pending pay raise to $50 a month is finally voted—would have to pay an income tax.

The committee voted, 17 to 7, yesterday to reduce personal exemptions from $1,500 to $1,200 for married persons and $750 to $500 for single persons. That reaches down to single persons who earn only $9.62 a week and to married persons whose weekly wage is only $23.08.

Actually people earning that little would not have to pay taxes because of other deductions allowable—contributions, other taxes and the 10 per cent earned income deduction.

The committee's reductions of exemptions was a blow to the advocates of a general sales tax,

CHILD'S JUDGE

Will Choose Between Mother and Foster Parent.

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)— Twelve-year-old June Louise Nicholson will spend an hour a day until Monday with her mother whom she never knew, then decide whether to live with the mother or a foster parent who has raised her.

The pretty blue-eyed child learned yesterday that Mrs. Lourice Marlowe was not her mother when Mrs. Dorothy Councelman, 37, brought a habeas corpus suit for custody of her child.

50 Merchants to Offer Bargains on Mansfield Days

Fifty Mansfield retailers were preparing today for the opening tomorrow morning of Mansfield Days, the annual spring shopping event which will continue through Friday and Saturday.

Hundreds of special values in late winter and early spring merchandse will be offered by the participating merchants, according to V. H. Lodde, secretary of the Retail Merchants association, which is sponsoring the event. Stores will observe regular hours for the two days.

Shoppers may ride downtown free on buses of the Mansfield Rapid Transit system from 9 a m to 11.15 a m. Regular fares will be charged on the return trip

Retailers are advertising their special merchandise values in today's issue of The News-Journal. Slogan for the event is "Shop in Mansfield—Save Tires—Save Gasoline"

Participating merchants will display yellow and black window signs and their RMA flags.

GETS 2 YEARS

Shelby Objector to Army Gets Lashing From U. S. Judge.

Richard Rosenberry, 22-year-old Shelby youth, yesterday was sentenced to two years in a federal prison by Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed of Cleveland for violation of the selective service act.

In sentencing Rosenberry and 10 others on the same charge, Judge Freed asserted that "when your country is fighting for existence there is not a semblance of manhood in anyone who fails to do his share."

Rosenberry, who is registered with draft Board 3 at the courthouse, refused to fill out his questionnaire or to have anything to do with the selective service system, the board reported. He told the board he did not "believe in war."

DEM WOMEN TO RALLY IN CITY

1,000 Expected for Annual Convention; High Politicos to Give Addresses.

Federated Democratic Women of Ohio, approximately 1,000 of them, will start arriving in Mansfield tomorrow morning for a two-day spring conference focused upon the slogan, "Win Our War."

Headed by Mrs. Lena G. Siferd of Lima, federation president, the Ohio organization will have headquarters at the Mansfield-Leland hotel where all sessions will be held beginning with a panel discussion on "Civilian Defense," Friday at 3 p. m.

Speakers of state and national prominence will be heard during the conference including Author Louis Bromfield, who will address the federation at an open meeting Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the hotel ballroom. Bromfield, whose forefathers were active in the affairs of the Democratic party, will speak on the subject, "Where Do We Go From Here?"

While the convention slogan is "Win Our War," politics will not be entirely in the background.

Saturday's speakers include Martin L. Davey, former governor of Ohio, Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, Democratic national committeeman, J. Freer Bittinger, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, and Mrs. Mildred R. Jaster of Shaker Heights, Democratic national committeewoman.

Considerable interest is attached to Mrs. Jaster's appearance here

Boys In Military Drill Groups Will Be 'Legion Cadets'

The new organization to provide fundamentals of military training for Mansfield boys from 16 to 19 years of age will be known as the Mansfield Legion Cadets, it was announced today by Sam Fox, commander of McVey Post American Legion and children of the special committee working on formation of the new group.

A mass meeting for all boys in this age group interested in joining will be held at the Legion Home on Park avenue west on Friday evening, May 22, at 8 p. m.

Arrangements for the opening meeting and other final details were worked out last night by the committee. Members in addition to Fox are Floyd Dent, H. D. Bishop, Glenn L. Bierly, Lydon Beam, Russell Moore, R. M. James, and John W. Graham.

LEAD OWN DOGS

Guests at Exclusive Hotel Have To Do Own Cooking, Too.

LAKEWOOD — (U.P.) — Guests and residents of the exclusive Lake Shore hotel personally escorted their dogs on their morning walks today, cooked their own meals and climbed stairs when a strike of bellhops, waiters and elevator operators suspended the hotel's service operations.

Ernest E. Howard of the Cooks and Waiters union said the AFL service employes struck when hotel operators refused to negotiate union demands.

County to Dust-Proof Roads, City's Still In a Quandary

The war has cut off the supply of road oil for this summer, but Richland county's roads are going to be treated against dust, anyway, County Engineer Howard Sword said today.

City residents, however, may have to put up with dust in front of their homes if they live on gravel or stone streets since city officials so far have not agreed on a substitute anti-dust treatment.

Sword said today that the county road department has two cars of calcium chloride which will be used to reduce the dust nuisance in front of rural homes. Work of spreading the material will begin next week, the engineer said.

At least three cars of calcium chloride will be needed for the county's roads and Sword said he expected to obtain the third car without any trouble. Price of the material is the same as last year and it is not under war priorities.

City council set up funds for the purchase of oil for the streets, but since priorities have made it impossible to obtain oil, no action has been taken to divert the money to the purchase of calcium chloride, according to Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff.

Resembling salt in action, calcium Chloride absorbs and holds moisture on the roads, perventing dust from forming and offering limited protection for the road surface.

JAPS REGAIN SUPERIORITY OVER CHINESE

Heavily Reinforced Columns Strike Northward in Yunnan Province.

SUPPLY LINES CUT

Chinese Nip Communications of Japanese in Vital Burma Sectors.

(By United Press)

CHUNGKING — Fast-moving Chinese units have severed Japanese communication lines at three strategic points in Northern Burma, but reinforced enemy columns have regained superiority in China's Yunnan province, a military spokesman said today.

Joined by thousands of reinforcements along the Burma road in Southern China, the Japanese column had branched northward and was now attacking the city of Tengchung, about 90 miles above the frontier, the spokesman revealed.

He said the Chinese forces there were fighting under extreme difficulties and admitted the city was gravely endangered.

The attack was believed to have been launched from Lungling, 50 miles above the border on the Burma road A simultaneous drive was believed developing against Yungchang, 100 miles north of the border.

"Chinese ambushers are still engaging the Japanese at Chefang (25 miles north of the frontier) and at Lungling," the spokesman said, "the Chinese also have succeeded in halting a Jap column on the west bank of the Salween river and have destroyed no less than two suspension bridges across the Salween."

Japanese communications lines, he said, now are cut between Lashio, in Burma, the Burma road's southern terminus, and Wanting, the border town 116 miles to the north; between Lashio and Bhamo (a distance of 100 miles), and between Bhamo and Myitkyina (a distance of 75 miles).

The spokesman said Chinese military quarters were fearing a new Japanese attack in Chekiang province. He said a Japanese air-

NAMES LUCAS

Rationing Board Expands as Duties Grow Heavier.

In an enlargement of the agency due to its increased duties, James E. Lucas, retired Mansfield druggist, today was appointed a member of the Mansfield rationing board.

Announcing the appointment, Chairman James Bailey of the board said:

"I am very proud to have a man of his caliber as a member of the board. His experience and ability will prove very valuable to us in our increased duties Whereas our original job was just tires and tubes, we now have sugar, automobiles, typewriters, tire retreads and camelback."

Other members of the board, in addition to Bailey and Lucas, are Emerson S. Weller and J. Leo Hartmann.

JAPS RIOT

Guards Sharpen Watch As Interned Aliens Stage Demonstration.

VANCOUVER, B. C. — (INS) — Soldiers on guard duty before the Dominion immigration building in Vancouver doubled their vigilance today following a riot of Japanese quartered in the structure The outbreak was quelled by use of a fire hose.

The disturbance was staged as a protest against the decision of Canadian authorities to end daily conversations the Japanese had been holding with friends outside the building.

Guards feared the angry Nipponese might damage the building and brought the fire hose into play to quiet them.

JAP BOASTS TO FORCE BATTLE

Experts Say Tokyo Must Stage New Sea Fight to Save Face on Claims.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — American military experts, intrigued by Tokyo's solemn but hollow claims of a resounding Coral sea victory, concluded today that such bombast could only drive the Japanese admirals to a grand-scale assault on the approaches to Australia in an effort to save face.

These claims have become so extravagant in the last few days, it was said, that the Japanese may be compelled to try to make good on them soon by a new foray in tremendous force.

Hence authorities believe another big battle is in the making—a battle in which the enemy might throw in some of his heaviest fleet units.

Other elements in the present strategic situation also impel the Japanese toward a large-scale naval attack. One is that the enemy's fleet strength has not been vitally impaired by the Coral sea engagement, disastrous as it was.

If Admiral Yamamoto wants to cut the supply line to Australia, therefore, he has to call up reinforcements and try again in the same theater, in some other area leading to the continent or else along the vast island chain guarding the supply line.

If the Japanese admirals do not attempt to follow up the first battle with another attack, they must risk a face-losing exposure to the emperor of their wishful thinking about the battle already fought.

The navy's reports here and dispatches from Allied headquarters in Australia have made it clear that the Coral sea fight ended in defeat for the Japanese. Their ships sunk or damaged totaled almost two dozen, including two aircraft carriers.

America and Allied losses have not been disclosed except that they

There were 26 representatives of the United States in the party, the third of four groups released from Italy in exchange for Axis diplomats coming home from the Americas.

Laval's Stand on Martinique Gets U. S. Cold Shoulder

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—French warships at Martinique are being immobilized, it was authoritatively disclosed today. The immobilization is being carried out in co-operation between French and American naval and other officials on the spot.

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Authoritative quarters indicated again today that the United States was not interested in any attempts by the Vichy French government to solve the Martinique situation where a special mission is seeking an arrangement to protect United Nations and French interests.

Reports from Berlin and Bern that Pierre Laval, the French chief of government who favors collaboration with Germany, had advised the United States he was ready to immobilize French warships now at Martinique but would not hand over merchant ships berthed there met a cold reception at the state department.

Repeatedly officials have pointed out that the United States was negotiating directly with Admiral Georges Robert as the "ultimate" French authority in the Caribbean, and that questions involved would be settled on Martinique.

Officials said flatly that no note had been sent the French government at Vichy concerning the matter and that none had been received from Vichy.

BACK ON JOBS

Humphryes Employes Return After 'Work Stoppage.'

Finishing their one-day "work stoppage" which officials of their union called a protest against the Humphryes Manufacturing company's failure to convert its facilities for war production, about 200 employes went back to work at midnight last night.

The workers stayed away from their jobs all day yesterday because of the stoppage called by the Amalgamated Local No. 756, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

Company officials said that the employes went back to work without comment.

Although the union officials claimed that Humphryes had failed to convert to war production, company officials countered with denials, stating that the company was working on materials for defense housing.

Senate, House Members Confer On Soldier-Sailor Pay Boost

WASHINGTON—A senate-house conference committee today is determining how much Uncle Sam should increase the pay for his buck privates and apprentice seamen.

The special congressional group took over the problem after the house approved a bill increasing the base pay of privates and seamen from $21 to $50 a month, instead of the $42 as proposed by the senate. It is expected that the final amount agreed upon will be somewhere between the two figures, perhaps at $46.

"We will have to take up the question of the increased cost with the bureau of the budget," declared Sen. Johnson (D) Col., author of the bill as it started from the senate.

"I understand the house amendments would increase the cost $192,000,000 a year, based on the size of the army in January, 1942, and of course this will increase as the size of the army increases.

"I don't want to have the bill vetoed."

One army authority estimated the house amendments, with the higher living allowances granted some officers, would bring the first-year increased cost to $445,000,000.

Meantime, the house military affairs committee was scheduled to hear further testimony of the companion Edminston bill to provide allowances for dependents of servicemen.

Stab Nazis at Kharkov; Yield In Kerch Area

Soviets Roll Ahead At Staraya Russa, Novgorod and Moscow.

(By Associated Press)

Russia declared today that her armies were storming at the gates of Kharkov, the "Pittsburgh" of the Ukraine, and other Soviet offensives were reported rolling against the Germans in the vital sections of Leningrad, Novgorod, Staraya Russa and Moscow.

In the Crimea, the Russians acknowledged yielding some ground in the six-day-old battle of Kerch peninsula but disputed the Hitler high command's claim of decisive victory.

Latest Soviet dispatches said the Russians were now holding a new line in good order, inflicting heavy casualties on the Germans.

The Soviet radio reported that Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Ukraine armies had smashed the German first-line defenses before Kharkov and were advancing on the city itself, imminently threatening the key Nazi stronghold.

All winter, Kharkov has been a major obstacle in the path of Soviet counter-drives.

The Russians said masses of Red army reserves had gone into action for the first time against Kharkov, and declared:

"Everything is being abandoned by the Germans in great quantities on the field of action."

Simultaneously, a Vichy (French) broadcast said the Russians had launched "massive attacks" paced by violent aerial bombing against the German armies at Staraya Russa and Novgorod, about 120 miles south of Leningrad.

Heavy fighting was also reported raging on the Leningrad front, where the Germans were said to have thrown new six-inch anti-tank guns into action in a vain attempt to stop the monster Soviet "Voroshilov" tanks.

Pressing an apparently major attempt to break out of long-besieged Leningrad, Red army troops were said to have crumpled the first German lines and captured many important positions in the secondary lines in a continuing advance.

Fierce action was reported, too, on the Moscow front, with the Russians driving toward the big German winter base at Smolensk, 230 miles west of the Soviet capital.

On the basis of all these re-

Berlin Claims 9 Ships Sunk on Way to England

LONDON — (INS) — Reuters (British) news agency today reported the broadcast of a special German announcement claiming that U-boats had sunk nine ships of a convoy enroute to England.

The attack on the convoy covered a period of several days, it was said.

The boats were described by the Germans as supply ships.

"In the north Atlantic," the German announcement said, U-boats attacked an England-bound convoy. They sank in stubborn fighting lasting several days nine ships totalling 31,000 tons. Another steamer was torpedoed and damaged.

"Other U-boats sank 12 merchant men totalling 82,000-tons and one patrol boat in American waters."

There was no confirmation of these Axis reports.

LONDON—(INS)—Following up its previous announcement of the arrival of "the largest Canadian expeditionary force in history," the British government today said fresh forces from New Zealand, including naval, air and forestry units, also had reached England recently.

War Bodes No Good for Alaska's Bears and Seals

NOME, Alaska—(INS)—The war is hard on Alaska's polar bears, seals and reindeer, too.

The War Department has placed orders for 5,000 pairs of mukluks—skin boots—as well as quantities of fur parkas and breeches, caps and mittens. To meet the demand, Eskimos are hunting polar bears, wolves, seals and reindeer as never before.

Skins are sent to Nome, where they are tanned and cut to size. Then they are parceled out to small communities, where native women and children sew them with reindeer sinews for thread.

Part of the job is chewing the leather to make it more pliable.

When the garments are completed they are returned to Nome, inspected and turned over to the Quartermaster Corps of the army. Although the work is slow it is reported to be precise and the garments last.

SOVIETS LAUNCH OWN ATTACK ON EXTENDED FRONT

Smash Toward Kharkov, Yield Ground at Kerch But Deny Nazi Victory Claims.

ports, it appeared that the whole 1,200-mile battleline from Leningrad to the Black sea was aflame in a series of gigantic battles which may decide the war in Europe.

"The days of fierce new battles are beginning," said the Soviet army newspaper, Red Star.

Red Star said the Germans had massed a considerable number of tanks and planes and might win temporary successes in some sectors, but declared that "the most critical days are far behind."

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted that German troops in the Crimea had won a smashing victory on the Kerch peninsula and were now relentlessly pursuing the "defeated" Russian army.

The Nazi command said German bombers were pounding the port of Kerch and blasting Soviet ships in the adjacent waters.

(This indicated that the Russians still held Kerch.)

The Swiss radio quoted the Rumanian high command as saying that German and Rumanian troops had captured Kerch City and Takil, thus reaching the gateway to the great Caucasus oil fields.

Kerch lies across a narrow strait from the Caucasus.

The Vichy news agency also reported that Axis troops had thrust to the end of the eastern Crimea, seizing the two key towns and occupying almost the entire coastline facing the Caucasus.

The Germans first captured Kerch in their October offensive in 1941, only to be driven out by the Russians in a surprise seaborne attack during a blizzard last Dec. 30.

A bulletin from Red army headquarters acknowledged that Russian troops had executed an orderly withdrawal yesterday in the face of numerically superior Axis forces, but gave no indication of the trend of the battle overnight.

On the Kharkov front, 380 miles north of Kerch, Soviet dispatches said the Russians stormed and overran a series of basic German fortifications, hurling the invaders "far back" and advancing through a steadily widening breach.

The Russians said the German high command flung hastily concentrated reserves into the battle only to have them melt before the Red army assault.

In the Crimea campaign, a Soviet communique declared the Russians were inflicting bloody losses on the Germans.

Moscow officials declared flatly that the German high command claim to victory along with the capture of 40,000 Soviet prisoners was "nothing but a lie."

The Russians said 43 Nazi planes were destroyed Tuesday, making a three-day toll of 145.

Berlin reports said yesterday the Germans were using 2,000 Stuka dive bombers against Red army lines in the Crimea.

A German broadcast, amplifying the daily communique, said Axis troops were "overtaking and dispersing" the Red armies as they slogged in retreat along muddy Crimean roads.

The Nazi high command acknowledged that the Russians were attacking heavily on the Donets river front in the Ukraine, and the wording implied that the Russians were gaining—declaring only that German troops were "resisting" instead of the customary "repulsing."

Russians Destroy 30 Nazi Planes

LONDON — (INS) — The Russian air force co-operating with Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's army on the southwestern front destroyed 30 German planes on the ground in a single raid and downed five others, Exchange Telegraph reported from Moscow today.

Nazi attempts to demoralize Soviet pilots by shooting rockets into the air simultaneously with anti-aircraft fire have failed, it was said.

British Ministry Has Problem In Vitamin Foods

LONDON—(INS)—Biggest headache to Britain's Ministry of Food, is to give vitamins to the public in an interesting form, and not as an uninteresting medicine.

At the Ministry headquarters, there is a research kitchen, staffed by experts who every day try many recipes so as to discover the best ways of providing health promoting dishes.

Into this kitchen, stream hundreds of ideas and suggestions from Food Advice Centers, the general public and Food cranks.

The Ministry has increased the vitaminization of margarine because that is the easiest way of supplying vitamins A and D which protect against infection and build bones and teeth.

The introduction of B-1 into flour and the sponsoring of wheatmeal bread ensure that the public gets sufficient of the vitamin known as the prime energizer.

Green vegetables are the best providers of the C vitamin which protects against scurvy.

Legion Mothers at Work Making Poppies

The Mothers' club of the American Legion auxiliary yesterday began the work of making the scarlet poppies that will be used for decoration throughout Mansfield churches Sunday in honor of Poppy day, the following Saturday, May 23. Pictured here is a group of workers who met at the Legion home to design the flowers. Shown from left to right are Mrs. Mary E. Lister, Mrs. Martha Gardner, club president; Mrs. Daisy Andrews, little Barbara Young, and Mrs. Emma Young.

Experts Say Tokyo Must Stage New Sea Fight to Save Face on Claims.

were considerably less than the Japanese and did not include either aircraft carriers or battleships.

Yet here is what the enemy has claimed to date: A United States battleship and two aircraft carriers sunk; a British battleship damaged (which the British flatly denied); a total of 240 United States aircraft destroyed when the carriers "sank;" 61 other aircraft shot down; 5,000 American seamen lost. For their own the Japanese admitted the loss of a small surface craft and 31 planes.

If these were merely unofficial claims they would not be so intriguing to authorities here. But for the most part the claims have been backed up by official communiques, and the pretense has even been carried to the point where the emperor issued a rescript lauding Admiral Yamamoto for his "brilliant victory."

Whatever the actual explanation of the claims may be, naval experts predicted that, having made them, Yamamoto and his men now would try to make them good if possible, before the Japanese nation awakes to their falsity.

Nazis Admit Jap Claims Exaggerated

BERLIN (By Official German Wireless) — (INS) — First Japanese reports of United Nations losses in the recent battle of the Coral sea were considerably exaggerated, Admiral Luetzow, German commentator, conceded in a broadcast today.

Among the misrepresentations, he said, for example was "the reported sinking of a British battleship of the Warspite class."

FORESEES EMERGENCY

CINCINNATI—(AP)—If a coal shortage develops in some areas this fall the government may institute emergency distribution, Thomas J. Thomas, associate director of the office of solid fuels co-ordination, said.

CONDITION CRITICAL

HAMILTON — (U.P.) — Gregor Ziemer, Cincinnati author, remained in critical condition today from injuries received in an automobile accident near Stockton.

Boys In Military Drill Groups Will Be 'Legion Cadets'

Fox emphasized that while the new organization will be strictly along military lines, it is purely local in nature and is not a government-sponsored activity. Its purpose is to provide the boys the rudiments of modern infantry training, which might be helpful to them if they are called to service later.

The committee is considering the possibility of having the members of the Cadet group in uniform, Fox said.

Drills will be held each Tuesday evening at the Armory, the same night as Mansfield's Company F, Ohio State guard, holds its drills. Members of that unit will assist in providing training for the boys.

Applications for parents' consent for the boys to join will be distributed at the May 22 meeting. Physical examinations will be provided before boys may enter, and physicians will provide regular check-ups during course of the drills. Cadet officers, from captain down to corporals, will be drawn from the ranks, and preference will be given those first to enroll, Fox said.

BODIES HUNTED

11 Victims Sought in Mine Tragedy That Killed 56.

OSAGE, W. Va. —(AP)— Official investigation of an explosion in the Christopher Coal company's No. 3 mine was held in abeyance today while rescue crews searched for the bodies of 11 of the 56 victims of Tuesday's disaster.

Four more bodies were brought to the surface late last night, and company officials indicated it would take hours to remove others buried under heavy falls in the explosion area three miles underground.

Chief N. P. Rhinehart of the United States mines department said the mine was not badly wrecked. An inquiry will not be started until all of the bodies are found, he added.

ACQUITTED AFTER 16 YEARS

NORWALK — (AP) — Charles Mitchell, 47, who surrended to clear his name 16 years after he was indicted for second degree murder, was acquitted by a jury yesterday.

JAPS REGAIN SUPERIORITY

Heavily Reinforced Columns Strike Northward in Yunnan Province.

craft carrier with 30 planes appeared in Hangchow bay.

The Central News agency reported that 30,000 Japanese troops had launched a major offensive Monday in Chekiang territory.

For the Chinese, the battle of Burma now has become the battle of China. Military quarters admitted that the fate of Kunming, provincial capital of Yunnan province, and possibly of Chungking itself may depend upon developments in the Yungchang sector.

Despite last week-end's reverses, the Japanese spearheads are an estimated 75 miles inside the Chinese border and only 250 miles southwest of Kunming. It was conceded that the Chinese situation presently is as grave as a week ago before the enemy advance columns were beaten back with an estimated 4,500 casualties.

Chinese intelligence reports said the Japanese had launched their latest attack along the twisting Burma road for new bases in the Lungling sector, 50 miles inside China. Sporadic fighting was reported at isolated points all along the enemy's line of advance, as far south as the border town of Wanting.

Allied Bombers Sink Jap Ship In Raid

MELBOURNE, Australia—(U.P.) —Gen. Douglas MacArthur's flying fortresses and Catalina-Consolidated bombers, opening a new phase of their offensive, have sunk one Japanese ship, damaged two and smashed 15 Japanese bombing planes in attacks over a 1,750 mile front, it was announced today.

Defensive fighters, newly arrived from the United States, shot down two and damaged one of a formation of Japanese navy Zero fighters which vainly attempted to raid the Allied airdrome at Port Moresby, New Guinea.

MacArthur announced in a general headquarters communique that his planes had sunk a 3,000-ton enemy invasion ship and obtained direct bomb hits on one of 3,000 tons and another of 2,000 tons in a punishing raid on Amboina, Japanese naval base 660 miles north of Darwin in the Netherlands East Indies.

Bombs were showered on the general harbor area.

A second fleet of United States and Australian fliers attacked the great enemy invasion base at Rabaul, in the Bismarck islands northeast of Australia.

Speed Work On $50,000,000 Power Project

FONTANA, N. C. —(INS)— A small army of workmen is preparing the foundation for the $50,000,000 Fontana dam, which, when completed sometime in 1945, will be the tallest structure of its kind in eastern America.

The site of the 450-foot structure is above all but one of the nine main-river dams of the Tennessee Valley Authority system. Fontana dam will rise up out of what is now one of the most scenic but most inaccessible sections of western North Carolina, at a point where the Tuckasigee and Little Tennessee rivers converge, in Swain county about 35 miles from Bryson City.

More than 25,000 acres of land will be converted into the watershed for the huge hydro-electric project which has been classified as "essential" by the TVA. The reservoir will include approximately 11,000 acres, reaching to the very outskirts of what is now Bryson City.

NEAR DECISION ON TAX RATES

House Committeemen Vote to Cut Exemptions to $500 and $1200 Next Year.

although they said they would continue their campaign.

But it was a moral victory for the treasury which has been seeking to broaden the income tax base as a weapon against inflation. The treasury recommended last week that exemptions be cut to $1,200 for married persons and $600 for single persons, and that the present $400 exemption for dependents be cut to $300. The committee did not change the dependency exemption.

There was no way of telling what the committee's move would yield in new revenues until the committee votes a schedule of rates, which it is expected to do within a few days.

But it was definite that between 8,000,000 and 10,000,000 persons who never have filed income tax reports will be required to do next year and that many of them will have to pay some taxes.

GIVEN SENTENCES

RAVENNA—(AP)—Pleading guilty to armed robbery of a tavern at nearby Atwater, Virgil Atkins, 18, admitted navy deserter from Charleston, W. Va., and his sister, Mrs. Edith Ibanez, 26, of Elkview, W. Va., were sentenced to state reformatories.

Irish Shoe Shine Boys Are On the Job For A. E. F.

WITH THE A. E. F. IN NORTHERN IRELAND— (INS) — Shoe shine boys, a convenience hitherto unknown in Ulster, are now appearing in a Northern Ireland town to keep the shoes of American doughboys spick and span while they are on leave.

The shoe shine boys came into existence when the American soldiers at some of the camps found the road to town too muddy to traverse without wearing overshoes. Then too, the overshoes were too cumbersome to tote around on the dry town streets.

The shoe shine boy solved the problem and now the typical American cry of "Shine Mister" greets the doughboys as they arrive in town.

ORDER STRIKE

OPS Workers Vote Walkout at Ravenna Unit.

RAVENNA—(AP)—Members of Local 177 of the CIO's utility workers organizing committee have set next Tuesday morning for the start of a strike at the local plant of the Ohio Public Service company, which serves the Ravenna ordnance plant. About 135 workers would be affected.

T. B. Frampton, local union secretary, said the strike vote was taken last night after he received word from company officials that they would not negotiate a contract with a bargaining unit from a single plant. The company has nine plants in Ohio.

LEAVES ESTATE OF MILLION

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A probate court inventory disclosed that George A. Tomlinson, Great Lakes shipping magnate and chairman of the Pere Marquette railroad, left an estate of $1,373,203. He died Jan. 24.

SHORTAGE AREA

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The war production board listed Cleveland, Akron and Massillon, O., as "labor shortage areas" in an order restricting the manufacture of cooking and heating stoves.

KILLED ON MOTORCYCLE

AKRON—(U.P.)—George Ladrach, employe of the Goodyear Aircraft Corp., was killed last night when the motorcycle he rode was struck by another as a group of five cycles entered a cloud of dust on Route 21 near Barberton.

OHIOAN MISSING

MARIETTA—(U.P.)—The war department has notified Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bell that their son, Private Ferris D. Bell, 22, stationed with the U. S. Marines in the Philippines, is missing in action.

Stumbles, Regains His Sight

Miraculously, Frank Kubiak of Detroit, father of nine children, has regained his sight—by stumbling over a curb. A tooting motorist caused him to fall. Kubiak, shown with his daughter, Jeanette, 7, has been blind for eight years as a result of an injury to his eyes. For three days Kubiak kept his miraculous cure a secret from his wife. When he was sure he told her.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1942.

This nation seems to be getting very thoroughly organized for one thing and another.

Heroes are appearing now so plentifully that it's coming to be the style, and ordinary fellows are ashamed to be afraid of anything.

The Saga of the Marblehead

"And so she came back, scarred with her wounds, a survivor of what was once the Asiatic Fleet. Her officers and men were tired and quiet, but they had the sure bearing of those who have done a job."

SO CONCLUDES the saga of the U. S. S. Cruiser Marblehead as told in the New York Times.

Those men of the Marblehead brought her through heavy seas, with fires raging, holes in her bows, nearly 2,500 miles with her steering gear broken. The captain steered with the engines, running the starboard one faster when he wanted to slant one way, the port engine faster for the other direction. "It took a cool head on the bridge and a nice hand on the throttles to do it," says the story. "The gunnery officer was everywhere, down aft pulling men out of oil and water, helping on the bridge, reporting on condition of the ship, without regard for his personal safety." Pumps were inadequate with more water coming in all the time. The men made a bucket brigade and "bailed her—a 7,050 four-stacker—like a rowboat." They kept buckets moving for 48 hours without stopping.

Almost every hour brought a new danger and a new adventure. Captain and men worked with little sleep, with wonderful teamwork, with all praise for each other. Every American may be proud to belong to the nation which includes such heroes.

Sober Times

A SERIOUS question is raised by Senator Herring of Iowa, one that may lead to considerable argument. He objects to the use of railway trains "to haul loafers to race tracks at a time when soldier boys are jammed into obsolete and unsafe railway equipment."

He also refers to the difficulty that railroads are having in moving gasoline and other essential war materials, and adds: "I feel this particularly today because my youngest boy is on the high seas in uniform. Those fellows going to race tracks should be in the army. The same is true of baseball players. Here's one senatorial baseball pass that isn't going to be used this year—unless General Hershey (draft director) goes with me."

Such a protest is rather hard to answer. The line will have to be drawn at race tracks, with the transportation they require. But it is only a step from that sport to baseball, to which the public seems definitely committed, war or no war. There seems to be a general feeling that in these tragic times, life should be kept as nearly normal as possible, for the preservation of health and sanity. Yet many a father and mother, with sons in the war, must be shocked by the seemingly flippancy and selfishness they see around them.

Peanut Cloth

CLOTH of gold was once the raiment of kings. Cloth of silk is now gone from the western world. Cloth of wool is slated soon to be almost as rare. Cloth of cotton still exists but isn't of the quality it used to be—not for the civilan population. Cloth of peanuts comes next.

A Scotsman invented the new fabric, but the patent was taken out in the United States. It is going to be so much like the best Scotch woolen, says Mr. W. B. Jester, president of the National Peanut council, that the wearer will scarcely feel the difference, and the onlooker will probably not know there is one.

Plenty of peanuts to gnaw at circuses, ball games and other hungry "spectator sports" seem to be an inalienable right of the American citizen. Plenty of peanut butter on the luncheon bread is one of the things children take for granted. Peanut oil is used for many purposes. Farm animals like the flat cake left after the oil has been extracted. Farmers who grow the goobers like the income they produce. So peanuts are a normal part of the American scene. Peanut cloth, however, is a little startling. But after all, why not? Stranger things have happened. Nylon, for example.

Stable Business

THE New York Curb Exchange has listed the names of firms which have paid dividends for a long time. It finds that 85 concerns have paid for twenty years or more, 52 for thirty years, 23 for forty years and 13 for fifty years. The oldest seems to be a company which makes textiles and has been on a paying basis for ninety years. A salt company runs it fairly close with seventy-nine years. Railroads, fire insurance, coal, gas and zinc are among the products of other old companies.

It is an interesting list, all told. Textiles, shoes, breakfast cereals, aluminum, wireless marine communication, paper and tobacco compete in stability along with the utilities and railroads.

In a world so beset with changes and uncertainties it is satisfying to know that Americans have been buying sheets and pillow cases from one concern for almost a hundred years.

Striking Teachers

WHEN teachers strike, it's news. School strikes by pupils over the discharge of a favorite instructor occur every now and then. Now southern Ohio offers something different. Eight high school teachers have resigned because the school board refused to support the dismissal of an unruly boy. Not only did the board members adopt a motion to reinstate the boy, but they added, at their meeting, what the teachers call "humiliating and unprofessional insults." Hence the strike.

Teachers do well to assert themselves once in a while. If they have a fault, it is too much of a tendency, when struck, to turn the other cheek. Many people pry into their private lives, and try to regulate their conduct beyond what self-respect can endure. Teachers are public servants, it is true, but even servants are not to be kicked around, in a democracy.

We'll be going back to the living standard of 1932, says Leon Henderson. But there's this difference: Then, while doing without things, we were going deeper into debt; but now we'll be saving money.

TESTING HIS INFLATION BLACKOUT CURTAIN

Axis Stopped In Latin America

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

VICE PRESIDENT HENRY A. WALLACE is apprehensive of a lot of Axis dirty work in Latin America during the coming summer.

Addressing the Free World association recently, he predicted "a last desperate blow" by the totalitarians before the season is over, and ventured the guess that it'll substantially side-swipe our hemisphere.

The Japs, he suggested, are likely to take a crack at Alaska and the United States' Pacific northwest.

Alaska doesn't sound like an improbability. It's only a short hop thither from northern Nippon. The more southerly coast isn't so conveniently vulnerable to raids by the Mikado's airmen. Still, there's no telling what such a desperate brood mayn't attempt.

However, it's with Axis fifth columnist activity in our Latin republics south of the Rio Grande that Henry's prophesy mainly concerns itself. He recognizes that 18 of their 20 governments are sufficiently "pro" Uncle Sam and the rest of the United Democracies to have broken diplomatic relations with the Axis bunch, and that the other two are friendly our way.

Henry, though, mentions the likelihood of internal uprisings against 'em, to force their alignment with the Axis, or, at least, to nullify 'em, as democratic influences.

Henry, having specialized on Latin America, speaks with considerable authority.

But does Henry know any more about it than I do personally? I spent a matter of years there. I've supplied it with Uncle Sam's local publicity as to World War No. 1. I've published a weekly newspaper in its midst—The River Plate American. I've got a Latin Americanly-born daughter and two grandchildren.

I think I can tie Henry as a prognosticator on that part of the world.

As everybody's aware, those countries are, by descent, Spanish, with the exception of the biggest of 'em, Brazil, which is Portuguese. Dictator Franco of Spain is totalitarian, but Spain, essentially, is Russian in its sympathies and likes Joe Stalin, who certainly isn't pro-Axis now. And Spanish-America reflects Spain. So'll Franco himself, as the Axis exaporates.

Brazil is traditionally pro-United States.

Cuba and Mexico are fanatically so.

Ditto 15-17ths of the rest of the crew.

Now, Italy? Italians are about as thick in Latin America as Spaniards and Portuguese. Just as, in Italy, they're through with Mussolini, they're through with Herr Hitler.

The Japs can be dismissed.

There are some colonies of 'em, but they rate, in Latin America, approximately as they do here.

That they could pull off an uprising today is a ridiculous idea. The local police would suppress 'em in jig-time.

Now get down to the Germans. They've got two sizable east coast South American settlements.

One's in the state of Rio Grande del Sul, in the southern end of Brazil. Another, more distinctly urban, is in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

You get off a boat at Puerto Alegre, Estado Rio Grande do Sul, and you'll have to speak German, to transact retail business—it's so Germanic that it is native.

Yet, during the last war, when the state tried to declare itself pro-kaiser, it was skwushed in short order from pro-Ally Rio. It happened again this time.

Early in the muss Rio Grande do Sul undertook to proclaim a German dictatorship in oppositon to President Vargas. Vargas is a pretty plain-spoken dictator all right, but he doesn't propose to be dictated TO.

He suppressed those Germans in no time.

I've seen it happen in the Argentine.

I've seen their Buenos Aires shops sacked, their embassy looted, their diplomatic representative marooned on an island in the Rio de la Plata.

Does this indicate that Henry Wallace needs to do much worrying for a bit ahead?—so far as concerns the western hemisphere?

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, May 14, 1922.

B. L. Loeb returned from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he attended the annual convention of National Musicians.

M. L. Branyon returned home after spending the winter in Alabama.

Glenn Rohleder, principal at the Newman school, was engaged in planning for the operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom" at the school auditorium.

Lester L. Linham was president of the Richland County Kennel club.

The Gideon camp here observed its first anniversary.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, May 14, 1937.

R. B. Maxwell company observed their 65th anniversary of its founding.

Mansfield Flower of Italy Benvolent society was organized.

Announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Martha Sites and Dr. Harold Rinehart.

Larry and Jack Twitchell left for Sarasota, Fla., to study architecture.

Margaret Farber was elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa national honorary scholastic society at Ohio State university.

TODAY IN HISTORY

May 14 — D. G. Fahrenheit, physicist, was born this day, May 14, 1686, in the city of Danzig. For the most part, Fahrenheit spent his life in England and Holland making a living by the manufacture of meteorological instruments. Still extensively used in Britain and the United States is the thermometer scale which he introduced.

Health And Diet

Health Questions Are Answered.

—By DR. CLENDENING

A. R.:—Is it true that bad teeth, that is, teeth with jagged edges can cause cancerous growths on cheek, lip or tongue?

Answer: Yes. This is one of the principle dangers of teeth of that kind.

H. W.:—"Is it considered too dangerous for a woman between 38 and 39 to have her first child?"

Answer: Of course there is a risk, but it has been done successfully and your physician is probably capable of handling the situation.

H. H.:—"When is the best time to give cod liver oil, before or after meals?"

Answer: There is a general rule that any medicine is absorbed better on an empty stomach before meals than after and this applies to this question.

D. E. N.:—Please send me a list of common foods containing calcium and another list of foods containing sodium.

Answer: Milk is the best calcium-containing food. All the vegetables contain some. It is hardly possible to get any food that does not contain sodium. If you need sodium artifically, use common table salt.

A. C.:—"Is it harmful to bathe the feet in Epsom Salts for burning, hurting feet?"

Answer: No, it is a very good form of treatment.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"The Fatal Twenty."

"What," inquires a reader who signs as 'Numerologist,' "is meant by the expression 'fatal twenty' in presidential elections?"

"Fatal twenty" is an allusion to the time interval between the presidential election years 1840, 1860, 1880, 1900 and 1920.

It is characterized as "fatal" because, oddly enough, every incumbent of the presidency, since and including the year 1840, who was elected in a year the date of which ended in zero, failed to complete his allotted term, passing away while in office.

For the sake of the record, they were William H. Harrison, 1840; Abraham Lincoln, 1860; James A. Garfield, 1880, William McKinley, 1900; Warren G. Harding, 1920.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pipe Line Seen As Only Answer To East's Gas and Oil Shortage

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Inside fact about gasoline is that even after allowing for 50 per cent rationing of gas and fuel oil, requirements on the Atlantic coast will be about 1,200,000 barrels a day. The maximum that can be moved by tank cars, barges, and pipe lines is about 825,000 barrels a day, though this capacity can be increased by the end of the year to 1,000,000 barrels.

Thus, there will still be a balance—after rationing, and after increasing the efficiency of existing facilities—of 200,000 barrels a day to be provided for.

Thus the new pipe line advocated by Secretary Ickes nine months ago but vetoed by the OPM seems the only answer. If that pipe line had gone through, the eastern seaboard now would have plenty of oil while the southwest would not be worried over constantly accumulating supplies of gasoline.

Meanwhile, some existing pipe lines operating with an east to west flow will be reversed.

Meanwhile also, diversion of tank cars to serve the Atlantic seaboard probably will result in some degree of rationing in Midwest and southwest.

An Early American.

The people of New Mexico trace their ancestry back to the days of the Spanish Conquistadors, and some of them back to the Pueblo Indians who lived there even before that.

At a party at the Venezuelan embassy, Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico was introduced to Mrs. W. D. Whittemore. Neither caught the other's name.

To remove all doubts, Mrs. Whittemore declared, "My husband is vice president of the Export-Import bank. He lends money to everybody but me."

Then she looked up from her strawberry ice cream and said to the swarthy Chavez, "What nationality are you?"

"American," declared Senator Chavez, "American, since before Plymouth Rock!"

Charley McNary.

If it were up to the senate, Republican floor leader Charles McNary would be renominated unanimously in the Oregon primary tomorrow.

That's the way his colleagues, both Democrats and Republicans, feel about him. McNary is the most popular man in the chamber—a unique record for a man serving 24 years who never pulled his punches as party leader.

Enthusiasm for McNary is not limited to the senate; it is shared by the White House.

No one holds him in higher esteem and warmer personal affection than Franklin Roosevelt. Despite the fact that McNary is the legislative leader of the opposition party, he is one of the president's most trusted advisers.

Only insiders know it, but Roosevelt consults McNary more frequently than certain Democratic leaders.

There are three reasons for this: (1) McNary is without peer as a political and legislative strategist; (2) he is a straight-forward and above board with foes as well as friends; (3) he acts on principle and not for partisan reasons.

A characteristic example of this was McNary's stand in the bitter battle last week over the spite-amendment offered by Senator Kenneth McKellar, persistent Tennessee patronage-grabber, to hamstring TVA by depriving it of control of its funds. Most of the GOP senators supported McKellar's scheme.

But McNary did not. He not only voted against it, but fought against it on the floor, shoulder-to-shoulder with Senator George Norris, "father of TVA." Making one of his rare speeches, McNary denounced the scheme in scathing terms and bluntly rebuked McKellar for sponsoring it.

That's the kind of a statesman McNary is and that it why Republicans and Democrats in the capital are rooting for him so sincerely.

Note: Because he felt it his first duty to remain on his job in the senate, McNary did not go back to Oregon to campaign and has made no speeches in his own behalf.

Russian Supply Lines.

Latest news from diplomatic sources indicates Germany is eager to pinch off the supply lines to Russia, both in the north and in the south.

At present, the principal port of entry for supplies from the United States and England is Murmansk, on the Arctic ocean. Archangel still is ice-blocked. From bases in northern Norway, the Germans are attacking Murmansk relentlessly and continuously. Allied losses have been heavier than generally realized.

The quantity of material moving in from the south, by the Persian gulf and Caspian sea is small—principally planes which are assembled on shore and flown into Russia.

The German plan for an attack on Syria includes a drive to cut this line of supply, so that the Russians would lose contact both by the north and the south.

This would make the Russians suffer severely, since they now have the major cities in their hands, with the responsibility of feeding the people, yet the major agricultural areas (such as the Ukraine) are in German hands.

Thus it is vital for the Allies to protect Murmansk—not only the port itself, but the railroad leading south from there, which is under constant bombardment, with consequent interruption of service.

This is one factor which leads dopesters to believe the British will open a second front in Norway, for the double purpose of driving the Germans out of the strategic northern bases, also of providing a means of attacking German territory. In anticipation of this possibility, the Germans recently have increased their troops in Norway.

Merry-Go-Round.

Former Governor Phil LaFollette of Wis., a militant American Firster, is training to be a captain at an army military police school. . . . George T. Davis, young San Francisco attorney, councel for the late Tom Mooney, has thrown his hat into the California political ring as a candidate for attorney general. . . . The marine corps has quietly abandoned its high-powered drive to recruit star athletes. Reason: Many of them didn't measure up to the high physical standards required of marines; had flat feet, bad knees, enlarged hearts. . . . The U. S. supreme court will wind up its term this year on June 1, after which Justice Frankfurter can devote all his time to advising the White House.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Just how serious the shortage of transportation for individuals is becoming is indicated by the fact that President Roosevelt himself paused in his many other duties to call for an immediate "share-your-car" movement.

He didn't restrict his plea to Washington either, or even to war work communities. Through the American Municipal association and the U. S. Conference of Mayors, he has put it squarely up to every city in the country and thus to every car owner, whether he drives a broken-down jalopy or the last special-built streamline job to roll through the dealer's doors.

This is one contribution to the war effort that is going to have to be voluntary. Laws can draft men into the army and rationing can curtail the use of everything that's turning up short. But it would be impossible to police the whole nation to see if every car owner is doing his duty in sharing his car with his neighbors and fellow workers. The appeal will have to be made on a basis of patriotism and the success of the movement will depend on that.

Transportation officials have estimated that the share-your-car drive could easily reach proportions where 5,000,000 cars could be taken off the streets and highways without impairing the war effort. Think what that alone would mean in savings in gasoline, rubber, and wear and tear on cars that cannot be replaced for the duration.

There's nothing complicated about this "share-your-car" business. To some extent, it already has been put into effect in Washington and many war industry centers. Automobile association officials here have worked out several suggestions that will get the job done.

(1) Workers who are in the same factories or buildings and live in the same neighborhoods can organize groups of from three to six, each driving his car one day or one week and picking up the others.

(2) Business trips in cars may be synchronized by a little inquiry or verbal advertising. Salesmen who travel the same route might double up.

(3) Housewives who do their marketing by auto can form "share-the-car" groups with neighboring housewives. Shopping expedtions can be organized the same way.

(4) If children are taken to school by car, the same neighborhood groups can be worked out.

There is hardly a purpose for which the car is used, whether it's recreational, or business or social in which the "share-your-car" formula cannot be applied.

If the government officials have their way the "share-the-car" movement will rapidly develop to that point where the man or woman who habitually and needlessly rides alone will be as unpopular in the community as the slacker of World war I.

A Farmer's Diary

Birthday, 1942

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

IT MAY be well to mention my birthday cake—for mine was the last birthday to be celebrated in our family before the rationing of sugar.

Don't ask how old I am . . . the top of the cake was covered with pink and white candles, and I blew them all out at one puff . . . whereupon my oldest son remarked beneath his breath, that Dad wasn't born yesterday.

The dinner was gathered from the fields, the hill and the garden. There were mushrooms, friend in butter, new lettuce, still too small, but usable; creamed potatoes; buttered asparagus that grew wild upon the hill; thick slabs of chocolate cake, with lemonade or coffee. There were sprays of dogwood in a low vase on the table, and the tablecloth was made of two gay printed feed bags, joined and hemmed.

The day was warm—a south wind blew through the house. Apple blossoms drifted down, and dandelions gleamed golden along the road banks. After the meal, I played ball with the boys—knocking flies for them to catch.

Driving into the village, with my wife and daughter, we heard the roar of an airplane, loud and louder. Then just ahead low over the road and the roof tops of our village, a big "flying fortress" swooped. We distinctly saw the insignia on the wings, the bands of red and white along the tail, and the four motors roared as the great ship moved along the valley and disappeared.

The evening paper carried an explanation of the feat. A local young man had saluted two villages of our Clearfork Valley before leaving for action with his bomber, on some distant foreign front. At the neighboring village that was his boyhood home, his parents and friends were expecting him and waved goodbye. His dip above our little town was our first glimpse, near at hand, of one of Uncle Sam's big bombers. It brought the knowledge that we are at war closer home to all of us.

ORGANIZATION TO TEND BABIES

'Bundles For America' Will Open Nurseries to Aid Working Mothers.

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK — Working mothers, faced with the daily problem of "who'll keep the baby?" today can expect the aid of a nationwide "foster mother."

The "foster mother" will be the "bundles for America" which expects to open between 500 and 600 day nurseries to care for the children of war industry mothers within the next six months.

"Thousands of mothers have been called from their homes into war production work," Mrs. Wales Latham, national president of the organization said in announcing the nursery plan.

"Their children need the healthy, adequate care that a day nursery can provide. Programs have been organized in numerous communities by the local defense councils to deal with this situation, but the need has grown increasingly pressing as more and more women enter employment in war work."

Nine nurseries have already been established by the organization, said Mrs. Latham, herself the mother of two daughters. Eight of these are located in war-industry areas in New England and the ninth in Auburn, N. Y.

MARYSVILLE, O. —(U.P.)— The Coffee Shop, a Marysville cafe which is prepared to handle cross country bicycle travel, has installed signs along highway No. 33 which advises that "Good Food Makes Pedaling Easy."

BOND CHAIRMAN ADDRESSES CLUB

WILLARD—"Bonds, and Food for Freedom" was the subject of a talk given by John E. Wise at a meeting of the Tuesday club at the home of Mrs. C. H. Strahm.

During the bisiness session the president, Mrs. W. W. Christian named Mrs. Homer A. Neff and Mrs. Leon Mathews as members of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Wise will be hostess for the June meeting of the club and Mrs. J. C. Gibson will arrange the program.

STRETCHES FOR NAVY

EASTON, Pa. —(U.P.)— William McKnight, all-around athlete at Lafayette college, found he was one-eighth of an inch short of requirements for an ensign's commission in the navy. For three weeks he followed strict exercises and succeeded in stretching his body to qualification height.

Reporter With U. S. Convoy Sees Destroyer Sink Sub

By JOHN A. MOROSO, III

(By Associated Press)

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET—(Delayed)—I have just had the pleasure of watching an American destroyer team up with a plane to pour tons of powerful depth charges on an Axis submarine which managed to get in the way of our huge convoys of soldiers and supplies.

The roar of explosives is still ringing in my ears.

The quickness of our attack was breath-taking.

The boys the Nazis regard as decadent democrats never gave the enemy a chance to attack.

Our great, grey ships were ploughing along on a blue, sun-lit ocean when a destroyer off the starboard bow reported a "contact."

In less than three minutes five terrific explosions blasted the calm. Plumes of water shot high as the "can" heeled over.

Our ship shivered from the detonations as we wheeled away into a sharp turn.

Beautifully behind us came the convoyed ships, turning in perfect formation—every one of them in line.

A speedy plane circled the danger area, dipped low and dropped an "ash can." Another tremendous flash of water cascaded skyward.

Planes from other ships catapaulted into the blue and dove over the bubbling water like hawks on the kill.

We didn't verify the suspected passing of some more strangers into hell. Our job was to take some Yankee boys to battle.

We do know that no Axis sea wolf likely could have had an easy time surviving that attack and such knowledge was a pleasure.

Through my glasses I looked at the troopships. Soldiers taking calisthenic drills before the excitement were still exercising. They had never stopped.

High above me Irving I. Smith, Boston newsreel ace, was hanging by his ear grinding away.

On the navigation bridge of our ship men were calmly drinking coffee.

The admiral aboard conferred with the skipper, discussing the maneuvering of the ships, the "firmness" of the contact picked up through American-made inventions, and the power behind a Yankee depth charge.

It was then I learned that America makes the most powerful depth charge in the world.

Twenty minutes after our attack a ship reported sighting a periscope but we were unable to find it. Maybe this one ran.

Reports told us of U-boats being all around us and directly ahead of us but we sailed onward.

One of the things that draws my admiration for these men is their calmness in steaming ahead in the face of known danger.

We had a rendezvous with a friendly submarine far out to sea today. Clever stuff this . . . meeting a friend sub while ducking a lot of enemy U-boats.

College Students Will Study Nazi Military Tactics

ATHENS, Ga.—(INS)—Advanced students in German at the University of Georgia will have an opportunity at the start of the spring semester to make a minute study of German military tactics.

A new book, titled "Military German," containing recent articles from German publications on the army, navy and air forces in offensive and defensive warfare, will be used in the course, M. D. Du Bose of German announced.

Details of the tactics used in Poland, France and the Netherlands will be included in the course, sessions of which will be held three hours a week. A prerequisite of three terms of German is required before one may enter the new course.

Don't Laugh, Fella, You May Be Riding In One!

What with tire and gas rationing, this may be prophetic as a parking lot scene of the future. These buggies were used in a fashion parade at Belmont, L. I., race track.

To Rouse Flow Of Liver Bile

Do This Every Morning For 30 Days

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts tonight. Start right in tomorrow morning and take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) half an hour before breakfast or in your morning cup of tea or coffee and keep this up for 30 days. Kruschen taken this way helps relieve such symptoms as sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion when due to insufficient flow of bile from the gall-bladder. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U S A., at Muir's Cut Rate Drug Stores, Wm. T. Hursh or any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back.

CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS Note: For an occasional cathartic or purgative, to relieve common constipation, we believe there is nothing better than quick-acting Kruschen in larger doses—try it according to directions on the bottle.

DECLARES SLANG FILLS GAPS IN ENGLISH TONGUE

Professor Approves Use of New Terms That Everyone Can Understand.

(By United Press)

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—You're "cooking with gas" when you call a drip a "drip," and, what is more, you are contributing toward a fresher and liverlier language, a Duquesne university English professor advises.

The newly-found defender of "slanguage," Dr. Martin I. J. Griffith, professor of English and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Duquesne university, believes that "it's great fun to call a drip a drip."

"Slang," Dr. Griffith said, "represents a continuous attempt upon the part of normal people everywhere to freshen and liven the living speech."

He explained there is a weakness in language which makes common words, especially when overused, weak and ineffective. To freshen up our speech, therefore, we must lapse into slang, he said.

"Slang is justified on another score," he added. "English is particularly a fluid tongue, and we express more elegantly words which represent the facts of lie."

But the educator and authority on jabber-wacky" cautioned linguists to distinguish between slang —the "solid" stuff—and "can't," which is merely the jargon of a special profession, trade or occupation.

The specialized terms used by a pilot, gangster, newspaperman, or garageman would, he pointed out, not qualify as the "real thing."

"Slang is permissable — indeed desirable—so long as it is not overstrained for effect, not home-made, that is, unintelligible to everyone else," Dr. Griffith said.

He listed such words as "drip," "lousy," "grind," as desirable "when incorporated in the easy flow of colloquial speech."

Particularly, he declared is slang necessary to fill a void in the English language, which, he said, "is singularly arid in certain words to express familiar relationships."

"'Fiance' is too stiff and formal; 'boy friend' and 'girl friend' too colloquial," he said. "'Sweetheart' is too strong and almost any other expression than the current slang one is too expressive or stilted. Slang fills a needed gap in the language.

FINISH COURSE

MT. GILEAD—A total of 116 residents of Mt. Gilead have completed a Red Cross course in First Aid training, Carl Hopkins, instructor, stated this week.

An adult group of 43 persons have completed a 20-hour course. Prior to the beginning of the adult classes 73 local school students took a 30-hour course. Certificates will be awarded the group at assembly Friday at the school.

Tells of Secret Gas

If Hitler plans to introduce gas in the present war, Uncle Sam is ready to retaliate with Lewisite, says its inventor, Prof. W. Lee Lewis of Evanston, Ill., Lewisite gas has been in the hands of our War Department for twenty-five years. Lewis adds that his gas is more humane than mustard gas because it is more deadly and acts more quickly.

ARIZONA STAKES SUNSHINE CLAIM

Official Declares Sun's Out 85 Per Cent of Time in 'Baby State.'

(By United Press)

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Southern Arizona receives more sunshine than any section of the United States, according to William De Merse of the Arizona highway department, and he defies California and Florida chambers of commerce to prove him wrong.

From statistics of the U. S. Weather Bureau, De Merse compiled a complicated sunshine map of the nation in which he gave proof that the sun shines in the baby state of the union 85 per cent of the time.

His map credited Florida and the South Atlantic coast with only 50 to 60 per cent sunshine weather and the California coast with a similar amount.

Texas and New Mexico were in the 70 to 80 per cent sunshine belt, except for the southwest tip of New Mexico which rated 80 to 85 per cent sunshine appeal.

De Merse insisted that angry weather sweeping in from the Pacific coast loses its bad humor among the purple hills of Arizona. The icy cold, sweeping from the north is spent and feeble long before it reaches central and southern Arizona.

"Nature does a fancy bit of air conditioning out our way," he explained.

FILMS BICYCLE VIOLATIONS

SANTA ROSA, Cal. —(U.P.)— Chief of Police Melvin Flohr invited a large number of students of the Santa Rosa high school to attend a movie preview. The film consisted of actual motion pictures of traffic violations on bicycles by his guests. They promised to be careful in the future.

WAR FORCING SUBURBANITES BACK TO CITY

War Industries and Curb on Auto Driving Reverses Exodus to Country.

(By United Press)

CHICAGO—Erection of thousands of new war plants and gradual curtailment of automobile use is shattering the dreams of millions of Americans who want to escape to quiet suburbs when their day's work is done.

A nationwide survey shows that exigencies of an all-out war had halted—at least temporarily—the American people's decade-long exodus from cities.

In fact, the pendulum is beginning to swing in the other direction, according to the national institute of real estate brokers, conductors of the survey.

The report showed that unprecedented industrial expansion and lack of automatic transportation is gradually changing the location of part of the nation's population and businesses, thereby effecting a revolution in real estate.

Because laborers realize the family car soon will be shoeless or otherwise non-useable, they are looking for homes near their place of occupation or near transportation facilities, the institute said That usually means increased concentration of population in the cities

Realtors throughout the nation's metropolitan centers submitted reports on problems springing from early stages of the new centralized industrial growth.

Chain grocery stores, gasoline stations, florists, barbecues and other retail establishments were reported moving to new locations along transportation lines or near the centers of towns Many are considering the possibility of occupying vacated automobile show rooms.

Many manufacturers of civilian goods, forced to retrench, are searching for smaller quarters, while those producing war materials face a problem of immediate expansion

Cessation in home construction in all defense housing projects has resulted in a scarcity of good homes and a rise in residential real estate values, the institute said.

BLACKOUT RULES NEEDED

DAYTON, Nev —(U P)—Justice of the Peace Denas A Walmsley is not so keen about blackouts He was milking when the first steam whistle alert was sounded The cow kicked him, overturned the bucket, and poured the milk into his boot

Village Transformed Into Boom Town By Oil Strike

(By International News Service)

PATMOS, Ark.—This little railroad stop, for years a tiny, sleepy village among the Arkansas hills, bids fair to become the areas' latest boom-town, rising to fame and fortune on the crest of a new discovery of the "black gold,"—oil.

Patmos, although it has no postoffice of its own, is seeing steadily expanding activity daily as heavy trucks rumble, and huge railroad cars are pushed off to the now-crowded railroad siding, to unload ponderous oil drilling equipment

The original population of the village—under two hundred people—has been exceeded by the number of workers, both attached and drifting, who have poured in to follow the flow of the black gold.

Located not far from Hope, Ark., site of huge war-time ammunition plants, Patmos was aware of its rude awakening from the mode of a peaceful cross-roads village when the Barnsdall discovery well was brought in. Almost immediately, the area seemed to be swarmed with new-comers. Within a few weeks more than a dozen requests had been made to the Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission at El Dorado for authority to drill test-wells.

A furore of leasing and buying currently is pouring thousands of dollars into the hands of Hempstead county folk, already enriched has been proved a wise course of action. Proof of the prosperity which has come to the frontier zone is the fact that imports have increased over five-fold in the last six years.

General Cardenas is following an exhaustive work schedule in diagramming Lower California's defense. Giving impetus to his efforts in his desire to safeguard Lower California's economic coming of age.

Like every boom-town, Patmos is already experiencing a shortage of housing facilities, but this fact is not deterring any of the furious activity which accompanies the rush to cash in on a new discovery of oil, in much the same manner as did the discovery of gold in the year of '49.

Before they even consider housing for the men, and the few women accompanying them, the powers-that-be in this over-night metropolis, are planning first on the construction of big supply houses, to protect the almost priceless equipment to be used in shipping off the earth's precious mineral so vital to a nation at war.

IN AIR CORPS

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill.—(U P)—S. G. Cook, 72-year-old high school instructor, has resigned his post to join the Army Air Corps as a civilian instructor. He will teach in the radio school. Cook was head of the physics department in the East St. Louis high school.

WIRE GUARDS WATER

RUTHLAND, Vt. —(U P)— Barbed wire entanglements will protect this city's water supply from trespassers. Health officials plan to stretch several miles of salvaged wire along the shore of brooks that feed the municipal reservoir to help forestall contamination.

Murder On the Avenue

By Carolyn Wells

(Copyright, 1942.)

CHAPTER IX

Though not in the habit of drinking in the morning, Herrick went to the bar and fixed himself a pick-me-up.

Martin Delevan, an artist, was there, and had a disgruntled look on his thin sensitive face.

"Hard going?" he said to Brand.

"Unsatisfactory. You'll get tired waiting."

"I'm that already. Haynes has gone in now . . . what did Raynor say to you?"

"Oh, he just talked. I think he feels pretty sure I killed Alma."

"Did you?"

"No, did you?"

"No. But I suppose we'd both say we didn't, even if we both killed her."

"What do you think? Some beast from outside?"

"I suppose so. Unless it was one of us. Alma was a siren, you know, and we all loved her."

"But not one of us would kill her!"

"Not with a pillow, anyway." Delevan smiled. "That's a deed for a Clarence Bliss—not your man, he'd use a bludgeon. But for the man such a name connotes."

"What do you mean, such a name? What's the matter with my partner's name?"

"Well, you know all such names as Clarence, Percy, Harold, Sidney—are considered milk-and-waterish."

"But why? They're names of great men, Queen Elizabeth's courtiers!"

"Yes, and what are courtiers? Mostly lace ruffles, and curls, aren't they? Well, anyway, I can't think of one of our crowd using a down pillow for his foul deed."

"Opportunity creates the sinner, so some bigwig said. Maybe one of us was making up to Alma and she threatened to scream, and he grabbed up a pillow to stifle her voice, and—and he overdid it."

"Bravo, Brand! I didn't know you had so much detective ability. That could be the explanation."

"No, I don't think it could be. And I haven't detective instinct, not in the sense of deduction and that sort of thing. Are you clever that way?"

"Oh, no. I'm too imaginative. I try to think out something and I go off on a tangent. That's why I don't like detective stories. I keep thinking out the solution, and it's never the right one, though often a better one."

"Well, try to think out this one. There's a solution somewhere, you know. Here's Mr. Markell. Have you seen Mr. McCleod, sir?"

"Yes, I have, Brand. Poor man, between his wife's death and his father's illness he's in sad trouble. He wants to drop the investigation; he can't bear to think about it. I don't believe he would really give up all effort to find Alma's murderer, but I think he would like to put it off for a time. But that's just what can't be done. The police are quick workers. They may not always get their result immediately, but they have to strike while the irons are hot. Who's Raynor got in the inquisition room now?"

"Haynes," Delevan said, "unless he's finished."

Haynes and Raynor were in a serious discussion of the young men of Alma's immediate circle of friends. Raynor was not often inclined to ask advice of his suspects, but when one was so full of gossippy information as Haynes, the detective took advantage of the opportunity.

"You see," Van was saying, "Alma was a vamp. She just couldn't help it. She was a born coquette."

"You were a friend of hers?"

"Very much so. She often told me I was her favorite."

"She may have told others that, too."

"Beyond all doubt . . . Now, don't misunderstand me. When I speak of Mrs. McCleod as a coquette. I don't mean anything serious, only a bit of harmless flirtation."

"In the case of married ladies, perhaps their husbands have their own ideas as to these harmless flirtations."

"Yes, they do. But where is all this getting us?"

"To this, if you please. Tell me the exact circumstances of your last time of seeing Mrs. McCleod alive."

"Certainly. It was in the guest room, which, last night was used as a men's coat room. We just happened to meet there, and as no one else was present, we had a little harmless flirtation."

"You kissed her?"

"With her entire assent. It is an established custom."

"I must ask you not to be flippant, Mr. Haynes. This is a serious occasion."

"It is to me. I don't mean to be flippant, but that's the way parties are, nowadays. And let me give you a tip. When you interview young men about the girls, don't seem to be too shocked at their revelations or they'll shut up and tell you nothing."

"Yes, I know that to be true."

"Well, go on, then."

"When you had this interview with Mrs. McCleod in the coat room, it must have been not so very long before she was murdered."

"Now that I can't tell you about. Some men always know the time, at least in a general way. But I don't. I never know what time it is, and when I find out, it is always much later than I thought, or, much earlier."

"When you saw Mrs. McCleod, that last time, do you remember what jewelry she was wearing?"

"Why, no; not definitely. Alma always wore lovely things, but never conspicuous ones."

"She had on several bangles, I believe?"

"I think likely. She often wore four or five at a time. You'd think they'd be uncomfortable."

"She didn't mention them, in any way?"

"Speak of them? Oh, no. Why should she?"

"She may have had a new one, and wanted to show it to you."

"Well, she didn't! She was not given to boasting of her wealth."

"Why are you so emphatic about it? Is it strange for ladies to exhibit a new trinket?"

"It would be for Alma. I am wondering if there is some special interest for you in that problematical bracelet. Why do you harp on it?

"You're doing the harping. How did you leave Mrs. McCleod? I mean why?"

"Why don't you say what you mean? I left her, because we both heard someone coming in. I had closed the door, and somebody rattled the latch."

"Who was it?"

"I've no idea. Alma whispered, 'Go out the other door,' so I did. We always obey her."

"The two doors are opposite each other?"

"Yes, and as I went out one of them I heard someone come in at the other. I don't know who it was, but maybe Alma took it to be her husband. She may have known his step. We'll never know now."

"And you never saw her again—alive?"

"No. That's all I can tell you, and I'll be glad to get away."

"I can always reach you at your home?"

"If I'm there, and I frequently am. Here's my card."

"One moment, please. Will you tell me if you have any well-founded suspicions of any one?"

"I have no suspicions, well-founded or not, and if I had I wouldn't tell them! If I knew of any really incriminating fact, I would tell it, but suspicions are the hind hoof of the devil!"

"That is sometimes true. You may go, then, Mr. Haynes, and if you learn of any fact I hope you will tell me."

"If it seems worth while, I will."

* * *

Haynes went, and Raynor asked for Martin Delevan, who came in looking debonair and interested.

"Here I am," he said, almost jovially, "I'm sorry for you, though, you have a grave responsibility. Or don't you take it that way?"

"I do, Mr. Delevan, I take it very seriously, and it is a responsibility. Can you help me a little?"

"'Fraid not. I am really an outsider, though I know the crowd fairly well. But I have a soul above sheer frivolity, and these silly dances make me almost ill."

"Yet you attend them."

"I usually have a reason of my own, unconnected with the party."

"And you did on this occasion?"

"Yes."

"Do you mind telling me what it was?"

"No, but it will seem trifling. I came solely because I wanted to find out if I cared for Mrs. McCleod enough to come again."

"Did you find out?"

"I am sorry to say anything except praise of the dead, but I discovered that the lady was not one I'd care to cultivate."

"You are exacting as to your acquaintances?"

"Yes, I am, but I do not care to pursue the subject."

"Nor I. Mr. Delevan, did you notice Mrs. McCleod's jewelry that she was wearing."

The witness looked astonished. But he answered readily:

"Not especially, except her bangle. She wore several on one arm, and I noticed one of them. It was an antique, and it was a mistake to wear it with the modern ones."

"Was it a valuable piece?"

"As an antique, it was worth two or three hundred dollars. Her diamonds and emeralds were worth much more. But it was a rare specimen, and I admired it."

"Did you tell her so?"

"Yes, she seemed pleased that I liked it."

"Even though you didn't like her?"

"I have not said I did not like her. She was a charming lady and very beautiful. But she was exceedingly ignorant of art in all its forms. This was not really against her, but it set her apart from the kind of people I care to know."

* * *

Raynor dismissed the artistic gentleman, feeling sure he had no information of importance.

Presently Colby came to Raynor, bringing the report of the autopsy findings.

"Smothered," the sergeant said, abruptly. "Just plain smothered. No heart trouble to speak of, no trace of any sort or kind of poison—not even of those that 'leave no trace.' Nothing wrong with any of the organs, no paralysant, just smothered, that's all."

"Meaning an attacker of a desperate kind, or somebody in a rage?"

"Maybe, but do you know, Cap, I sort of favor a woman killer."

STATE PRESIDENT OF B. AND P. W. SPEAKS

Installation Ceremony of Business Women Conducted By Miss Olive H. Huston of Xenia at Meeting Held Last Night.

"IT IS TIME to cease being spectators and to become doers," Miss Olive H. Huston, president of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, told the Mansfield chapter last evening when speaking at the dinner program at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Fifty members were in attendance for the regular meeting addressed by Miss Huston, director of speech at Central high school, Xenia.

"Our days of looking on are over," said Miss Huston. "We must come down into the field and become leaders among women." She emphasized three factors vital to winning the war. They are saving, simplifying and substituting.

Miss Minnie Laudon, a member of the state board, introduced the speaker. Previous to the program Miss Huston presided for the annual installation of officers for the Mansfield club. Miss Dorothy Landers will serve as president of the organization for the coming year, assisted by Miss Catherine Riggs, vice president; Mrs. Mildred Perry, second vice president; Miss Marjorie High, treasurer; Miss Urith Funston, recording secretary, and Miss Virginia Dye, corresponding secretary.

Miss Landers succeeds Miss Mary Elizabeth Gruber as president. The latter gave a toast to the new officers. The new presiding officer was chosen as official delegate to the state B. and P. W. convention in Cleveland May 22-24.

During the business session action was taken to buy defense bonds with money from the educational fund. Five numbers, "Over the Rainbow," "Now Is the Month of May," "I Heard a Forest Praying," "Nursery Rhymes Suite" and "Sundown," were sung by the B. and P. W. Glee club, under the direction of Miss Myrtle Booth.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the Ganges church June 10. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. Members are to meet at the courthouse here at 6:15 p. m.

Red Cross work is done by the members each Monday at 7 p. m. A hike is scheduled for Sunday, May 17, when members are to meet at the courthouse at 2 p. m.

Timely Topics Club Elects New Officers

Dinner was served at the Women's Club when Mrs. A. R. Perl and Mrs. Arthur Glattke entertained 12 members of the Timely Topics club on Tuesday. Attractive table decorations consisted of a crystal bowl filled with roses and snapdragons.

After the dinner, the group went to the home of Mrs. Perl where the following officers were elected: president, Miss Veronica Hanley; vice president, Mrs. John Kunz; and secretary-treasurer, Miss Carolyn Walter.

Prizes in bridge were won by Mrs. Jerome Hanley, Mrs. Wilmer Kessler and Mrs. Kunz. Plans were completed for the picnic to be held in June.

Bowman School Mothers' Club Holds Meeting

Preceding the regular meeting of the Bowman School Mothers' club at the school yesterday afternoon, an American flag was presented to the school by Mrs. Bess Buchanan for the Women's Relief Corps. The dedication ceremony took place in front of the building. J. B. Mokes, president of the board of education, was present to make presentation of the new flag pole, gift of the board. E. W. Kissel, principal, accepted the flag and pole in behalf of the school.

Forty members were in attendance for the regular business session during which officers for next year were elected. They were Mrs. Donald Hartig, president; Mrs. Clyde Woolard, vice president; Mrs. Chester Shasky, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Howell, treasurer.

In the absence of Mrs. Hartig, Mrs. Woolard conducted the meeting. Mrs. L. D. McVicar presented the oldest mother, Mrs. Thomas Reader, with a plant. Vocal solo, "Mother MacCree," was rendered by Mrs. George Burns. Recipient of the door prize was Mrs. Robert Stevenson.

Plans were completed for the spring festival which will be held at the school on May 28. Mrs. Harry Constance and her committee served refreshments.

GET-TOGETHER CLUB.

Eleven members of the Get-Toegther club were entertained by Mrs. Robert Haag at her home on Concord avenue Tuesday. Prizes in bingo games were awarded to Mrs. James Elliott, Mrs. James White, Miss Wilma White and Mrs. Haag. Poke lunch was enjoyed. The table was decorated with tulips. Next meeting will be held on May 26 at the home of Mrs. Richard Hostetter, Rhodes Heights.

Meeting Held By Alpha Class

Alpha class of St. Matthew's Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. William Schrack, 88 Helen avenue, Tuesday evening. Devotions were led by Mrs. J. H. Mollenkop. The members made kits for soldiers and voted to purchase a war bond.

An interesting reading on "The Legend of Dogwood" was given by Mrs. Schrack. Mrs. Mollenkop had charge of the business session. The home was decorated with garden flowers. Luncheon was served at a long table decorated with a centerpiece of lilies of the valley. Plans for the next meeting will be announced later.

WELFARE CLUB.

Mrs. H. E. Hart, 548 South Diamond street, entertained members of the Welfare club Wednesday afternoon at her home. Thirteen were in attendance for the routine business. The next meeting will be a picnic at noon on June 10 at the home of Mrs. A. T. Sneeringer, Ashland road.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Head of WAAC?

MRS. OVETA CULP HOBBY

According to reports in Washington, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, of Houston, Tex., wife of former Gov. William P. Hobby, will head the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps when it is set up. The bill creating the corps has been passed by both the house and the senate and awaits only President Roosevelt's signature. The corps will be composed of 150,000 women, volunteers to serve in non-combat capacity with the troops at home and abroad.

Mrs. Hammett Hostess to Chi Sigma Mothers

Salad luncheon was enjoyed by the Chi Sigma Mothers at the home of Mrs. W. W. Hammett, 198 Helen avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Spring flowers decorated the small tables and were used throughout the home. During the short business session June 2 was selected as the time to entertain the daughters of the club.

Bridge was played at three tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. H. H. Clingan, who had high score, and Mrs. Margaret Eisenberger, a guest. Mrs. Harry Korb also was a guest. Ten members were in attendance. Hostess for the meeting on June 10 will be Mrs. Anastasia Nail, 1025 Park avenue west.

Soldiers' Kits Made by Group

Kits for soldiers were made by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Firemen's Local when they met at the home of Mrs. Charles Seeburger, 45 Wolfe avenue, on Tuesday. Winners in bingo games were Mrs. Frank Stahl and Mrs. Leo Saltzgaber.

Mrs. Seeburger presented her secret sister with a gift. Color scheme for the luncheon table was red, white and blue, carried out with effective appointments. Next meeting will be held June 9 at the home of Mrs. Lurz on Bowman street.

Social Events Highlight Democratic Convention

HIGHLIGHTING the social side of the state convention of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio, opening tomorrow at 3 p. m., at the Mansfield-Leland hotel will be the formal banquet at 6 p. m., Friday for officers of the Federation and state committee chairmen. Mrs. Clark Brook is convention chairman.

Dolly Madison club members will be hostesses for the informal reception to take place Friday at 8:30 p. m., in the hotel ballroom. Mrs. Emma Young is general chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Edith Metcalf, club president, who is arranging the program.

Outstanding on the program for the evening will be a tableau picturing Betsy Ross and the American flag. Miss Maxene Williams will portray Betsy Ross. The feature has been arranged by Mrs. Boyd Wierman. Miss Sally Van Horn of Shelby will give a reading, "White Cliffs of Dover." A musical presentation will be "The Adventures of Jack and Jill," arranged by Mrs. Mary Anglin.

Speaker of the evening will be Louis Bromfield, author, whose topic is to be "Where Do We Democrats Go From Here?" He will be introduced by John O'Donnell. Following the program an informal reception will take place with refreshments served during that time.

More than 500 women and candidates are expected to attend the sessions and social events of the convention. Mrs. Clark Brook, former president of the Dolly Madison club, and now vice president at large of the state organization, will be the only woman from Richland county in attendance at the banquet for state officers tomorrow evening.

At 7:30 a. m., Saturday morning breakfast will be served to the Democratic Widows of Ohio at the hotel. This social club was organized several years ago and has been an interesting diversion of recent conventions. Luncheon is scheduled for 12:30 p. m., with appropriate program planned and business to be discussed. Mrs. Clyde Welty of Lima, member of the state program committee, will furnish the musical portion of the program. Mrs. Norman Wolfe of this city is in charge of the luncheon.

Nutrition Talk Given for Group At Westinghouse

Approximately 350 Mansfield women enrolled in the Richland county nutrition courses met Wednesday in the Westinghouse auditorium to hear a discussion by Mrs. Julia Kiene, head of the company's department of defense nutrition and home economics, who spoke on "Vitamin Retention in Vegetable Cooking."

The meeting was opened with welcome and introduction by Mrs. George Hypes, secretary of the Richland county council of Nutrition for Defense, in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. W. B. Ford. A picture entitled, "V-Men," was shown, followed by Mrs. Kiene's demonstration of the old fashioned and modern method of cooking vegetables.

Announcement was made that the nine individual courses would continue but a joint session would take place May 28 in the Westinghouse auditorium, at 2:30 p. m. At that time a canning demonstartion will be given. These classes are sponsored by the Richland County Red Cross.

TAPS GIRLS CLUB.

The next meeting will be held June 9 at the home of Mrs. Charles Garnett, Wooster, O.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF WEDDING MAY 9

Miss Helen Such Became Bride of Michael Mitrovich of Cuyahoga Falls at Lexington In Presence of Miss Gaubatz and Earl Mitrovich.

IN A QUIET, single ring ceremony at Lexington, Miss Helen Such, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Such, 326 Grace street, became the bride of Michael Mitrovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitrovich of Cuyahoga Falls, at 9 p. m. on May 9. Maid of honor was Miss Bette Gaubatz and Earl Mitrovich, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a green and white polka dot dress and a beige linen coat. Her accessories were brown and white and she had a corsage of Talisman roses. Miss Gaubatz wore an olive green costume suit trimmed with red fox fur. Her accessories were brown and white. Roses and sweet peas formed her shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Mitrovich is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and has been employed at the North American Knitting Mill. A graduate of North high school and business training school in Akron, the bridegroom is employed at Polski's department store in Akron.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and close friends of the couple. The couple left later on a southern motor trip. They will reside in Cuyahoga Falls, near Akron.

Fete Recent Bride At Calver Home On Wednesday

Mrs. Woodrow Cline, the former Martha Flohr, was honored last evening with a miscellaneous shower and party at the home of Miss Marjorie Calver, 246 Davis road. Mrs. Barney Adams was the associate hostess. Fourteen guests spent the evening playing cards and prizes were won by Miss Theresa Frisch and Mrs. Kenneth Bricker, who presented them to the honoree.

The bride found her gifts by matching flowers from a bouquet given to her by the hostesses. At the close of the evening refreshments were served at a long table decorated with yellow and orchid appointments and a centerpiece of mixed spring flowers and lighted tapers. Individual corsages marked the places of each guest.

The hostesses presented Mrs. Cline with an electrical gift.

REGULAR SESSION.

Mrs. Bess Buchanan presided at the meeting of the McLaughlin Women's Relief Corps, No. 26, at the regular session held at the Memorial building last night. It was voted to buy defense bonds. During the social hour the club prize was won by Mrs. Della Cochran. It was announced that Mrs. Buchanan, representing the corps, had presented an American flag to the Bowman street school. The next meeting of the group will be held May 28 at 2 p. m. for sewing session, followed by regular meeting.

Basket Picnic Dinner Planned By Charity Band

Mrs. H. H. Beelman, 162 West First street, was hostess of the Matlock Charity Band and one guest, Mrs. Russell Gimbel of Friendly House, Wednesday. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Fred Heineking and Mrs. Blaine Johnson. Activity for the afternoon was welfare sewing.

At 3 o'clock Mrs. Susan Wheaton, president opened the business session wth prayer. A nominating committee was appointed to have charge of the election of officers at the June meeting. The committee is composed of Mrs. Wilbur Gross, Mrs. Milton Selby and Mrs. J. Harvey.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Henry Bronkar spoke on "Social Relations and Civilian Defense." Slides featurng different groups and activities at Friendly House settlement were shown by Mrs. Gimbel who furnished interesting narration for the pictures.

Luncheon was served by the hostess. Mrs. Wheaton will entertain the group at her home, 64 Lexington avenue, on June 10. Associate hostess will be Mrs. Cora Linn and Mrs. Bert Gettles. There will be a basket picnic dinner. Each member is to bring her own table service and a guest if she desires.

Institute to Be Held In Akron

Women of Moose Have Hospital Guild Night

Hospital Guild chapter night was observed by Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 47 at their headquarters last evening. Miss Loretta Zellers, hospital guild chairman, had charge of the program. Business session was conducted by Miss Ruth Roesch, senior regent.

Mrs. Esther Taylor, graduate vice president of the Mooseheart alumnae association of Barberton, was guest speaker. A class of two candidates was initiated in her honor. Mrs. Taylor was presented with a gift by Mrs. Nannie Lowman, recorder.

Miss Roesch was chosen delegate to the Mooseheart convention on June 6. She will present a check for $100 donated by the chapter and chairmen to sponsor a Mooseheart graduate for nurses' training. Mrs. Nell Piller, junior regent, was chosen delegate to the Moose program assembly in Columbus on May 22, 23 and 24.

Reports were given by Mrs. Effie Keltner, social service chairman; Mrs. Mildred Burdette, homemaking committee; and Mrs. Opal Stentz. Plans were made to go to Willard, Sunday for the panel discussion. Mansfield chapter will conduct an initiatory service.

First aid classes for the Women of the Moose and the Loyal Order of Moose will begin on May 21. On May 25 a meeting will be held for the executive board and committee chairmen at 7:30 p. m Next regular meeting will take place on May 27. All three events will be held at the Moose home.

Picnic Planned By Catherine Von Bora Class

Hostesses to the Catherine Von Bora class of the First Lutheran church for a covered-dish dinner at the parish house on Wednesday were Mrs. Paul Harter, Mrs. Ivan Bauer, Mrs. Clarence Fike and Mrs Roger Oster. Business session was in charge of Mrs. Burke Baer, president.

Mrs. Waldo Matthes read the scripture. Book report, "Mrs. Appleyard's Year," by Louise Andrews Kent, was given by Mrs Bauer. Mrs Rhea Williams and Mrs. Baer were recipients of contest prizes. Next meeting will be a picnic on July 8 at the cabin of Mrs John Brandt. Hostesses will be Mrs Virgil Norris, Mrs. Katherine Pollock, Mrs. Leo Graham, Miss Marjorie High and Mrs. Brandt.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

There was a note in Jack Bickett's voice which I had not heard in years. And by years I meant not only the long dreary stretch of time during which no one of his family or friends had heard his voice at all, but in the years before that after he returned, shattered and spent, from the war, when I had been so constantly angered at him for his shabby treatment of Katharine.

I had tried then to temper my wrath against him with a remembrance of what he had suffered in the war, but I had told myself that he was not insane, and deserved strong censure for the treatment he gave his wife.

But this was the old Jack of my girlhood who was speaking now, the man who was chivalrous and generous to a fault, especially to the women of his family.

But I made no protest against his self-accusation Flagellation would do him no harm, I thought. However, I could give him one bit of cheering information, and I spoke as soon as his voice died away.

"Katharine never has decided she could not go on. She is the personification of loyalty."

"I know that," he said sadly. "But I never could have blamed her if she had shifted that loyalty to some one more worthy of it."

Sudden Fear.

Fear suddenly constricted the muscles of my throat There was an indefinable something in his voice which made me wonder if he knew anything of the reappearance in Katharine's life of Hal Meredith, brilliant alienist, the "heart interest" of her early girlhood, who had besieged her to give up the unequal struggle and turn to him.

But if Jack did know about Hal, how had he learned it. There could be but one answer to that, I believed—Ruth Hayes, the much touted "wilderness woman" who was the sister of Jack's engineering partner, and who had shared their self-imposed exile.

Unscrupulous, the remorseless wrecker of more than one home, this woman had once tried Katharine's faith to the utmost by writing her a letter in which she demanded that Katharine write to Jack and tell him that she wished to dissolve their marriage.

She had told Katharine, in her letter, that Jack loved her (Ruth) but was too high-minded to ask his wife to release him, therefore she was doing the job for him, but without his knowledge. And she had stressed the point that Jack must never know she had written to Katharine.

Katharine had ignored the letter, staunchly believing that Jack knew nothing about it, but I had written to Jack, enclosing a copy of the "wilderness woman's" letter. I never had received a reply, and I could not escape the conclusion that Ruth Hayes, with her access to the mail of the camp, had abstracted the letter, and that Jack never had seen it.

I resolved to settle that question without delay.

"Here is something else," I said. "Have you received any letter from me during the last three years?"

His eyes were suddenly intent, watchful.

"No, not once," he said. "Did you write one?"

"Yes," I replied, "a most important one, and I sent it to the New York office of the firm which sent you to South America, asking that it be put with the firm's mail to you. I made that request by telephone, and I was told that my letter had arrived and had been sent on to you. But I never received any reply from you."

The bewilderment was leaving his face now, and in its stead was black suspicion of some one—I hoped fervently that the suspicion was directed to Ruth Hayes. Then he spoke crisply.

"Have you any ideas about this mix-up?" he said. "If so, will you tell them without delay? For God knows when I'll have the chance to talk to you again."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

LEARN THE PATTERN

Until you learn the pattern necessary for making a double squeeze play, you are not very likely to put one over, except by sheer luck. Usually, besides the card on which neither opponent can follow suit, there is a card in the same hand which you can lead to the top card of its suit in the opposite holding, and also a single card of the third suit which can be guarded only by the defender at its right, and in the opposite hand, another single card of the fourth suit which can be guarded only by the defender at its right. If you build that arrangement, the opponents are squeezed beyond repair.

At one table of a Bridge-for-Ambulances tournament in Boston, the declarer tried for a double squeeze to make an extra trick, but failed. After the spade 10 to the Q, he sent through the club 10, then finessed the 9, brought the heart Q through and then ran the rest of the spades, which he followed with the club A. This seemed to bother East, who cut down to two diamonds in order to hold two hearts, but when West followed with the club J, he was also able to hold three diamonds, so that a diamond was dropped at the end.

The real mistake here was failure to take the heart A early and leave only the J as a squeeze threat against East's K. The squeeze could be made still more simple by cashing the diamond K rather early, so that the last spade would be led to the 11th trick, with the proper setup, as we done by Mrs. Richmond H. Skinner, Massachusetts state chairman of the Bridge-for-Ambulance campaign, who with her partner won the tournament.

When she finally called the spade 8, she had in the dummy also the diamond 8 and the club Q. East could not discard the heart K, or it would make the dummy's J good, so trashed the diamond J. Now the heart J was thrown from the South hand and West was squeezed. If he tossed his club K, the Q and the diamond A would have ended the hand. He put off one of his two damonds whereupon the diamond A and 2 brought in the last two tricks.

If South bids and rebids hearts on this deal, and then leads the diamond A and 6, how would you play this hand in the East to make 4-Spades?

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, May 15.

BIG BUSINESS, in which artifice, subtlety and finesse play prominent roles, is the predominant factor in the day's endeavor. Much of major importance, in connection with large corporations, diplomatic, political or possibly secret societies, may combine to stimulate a decisive effort to the attainment of high ambitions, whether these be in the financial, industrial or political realm. There should be expansion, growth, fine production, prestige and popularity. Conspicuous success and satisfaction may be attained by fast moves, ingenuity and innovation.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year of exceptional promise for the attainment of high aims and objectives, in whatever direction such aspirations may tend In connection with large or secret institutions, where subtlety and strategy obtain, novel and bold ideas, originality, ingenuity and skill, with quick moves and direct action, may land with telling force on major projects, if sustained by sound constructive effort. high purpose and indomitable determination. Personality, influence and social prestige also have their part in this happiness.

A child born on this day may be endowed with many factors for spectacular success and achievement in many avenues of human endeavor and aspiration. It may be shrewd and subtle, original, adventurous, also sound and practical despite whimsicalities.

THE WAR TODAY

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
(Wide World War Analyst)

Whatever may be the purport of the note which Vichy has sent to Washington regarding the status of Martinique, the indications are that it had better be good unless the French government of Pierre Laval is riding for trouble.

The air is electric with signs that the United States government is forcing a showdown which will be backed by action if necessary. The idea, of course, is to make it impossible for the enemy to profit by the French possessions in the Caribbean.

We have no official details regarding the Vichy note or the Washington move which preceded it. Berlin yesterday broadcast a Vichy report that in communication direct to Admiral Robert, French high commissioner at Martinique, Washington had demanded immobilization of French warships at Martinique and also had asked that France surrender a number of cargo vessels in Caribbean ports, thereby raising "grave questions." Today a Swiss report says Vichy is notifying Washington that the warships will be immobilized but that the merchant vessels won't be handed over.

If this Swiss report is correct, it means that the crafty Laval, who is trying to deliver the resources of his country into the hands of Herr Hitler, is pausing for further reflection. The British move in taking over Madagascar by force, with Uncle Sam's firm backing, apparently has inspired the Nazi-minded Laval with caution.

There can be no question that the United States intends to take no nonsense from Laval. If it is necessary to seize warships or even occupy the French possessions in the Caribbean in order to neutralize them, it's a fair guess we shall proceed quickly and without fuss and feathers.

It is vital that we protect ourselves in this matter. President Roosevelt summed the position up a year ago when he said: "We insist upon the vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used and would be used as a base for attack against the Americas."

Martinique and its sister island of Guadeloupe certainly fall in this category. They lie within America's island naval bases which form the eastern defenses of the Panama Canal.

Ever since the collapse of France Martinique has been regarded as a potential loophole for an Axis thrust at the canal. And now, with Atlantic and Caribbean waters infested with U-boats the seriousness of the position is vastly multiplied.

I believe we can take it for granted that whatever Washington wants to do in respect to the French possessions in the Caribbean, it now will do without argument. This will arouse the ire of Laval and his master, Herr Hitler but they are handicapped by the fact that the majority of the people of France detest Laval and are pro-ally. The Vichy government must move circumspectly.

REQUEST OHIO RURAL AREAS AS BOMBING HAVENS

Danger Area Representatives End Sessions; Fingerprints of All Pupils Asked.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Officials of Ohio's "target areas," already planning evacuation of civilians in event of enemy air attack, want to move bombed urban families back to the wide open spaces of the farm when the bombs start dropping in "the Ruhr valley of America," the midwestern states.

Representatives of the state's nine danger areas today called upon the state to designate rural and suburban counties as "havens of safety" for residents of large Ohio cities "just in case two or more major cities need to evacuate civilians at the same time."

"Approximately 150,000 persons would have to be moved from the Cleveland area in event of an enemy attack," Claire W. Grove, chairman of the greater Cuyahoga county evacuation committee, said "We want to know where to send them to safety and we believe it is the job of the state to make that decision."

Grove spoke at a meeting of federal, state and local defense authorities called to perfect details for evacuation of civilians. The conference was scheduled to last two days but was adjourned after the initial session because state and local authority in evacuation has not yet been developed "sufficiently to permit discussion of details."

Grove asked that the state take action to require school teachers to remain at home during summer vacations because most cities plan to evacuate schools, including teachers and pupils, as units.

Col Lynn Black, superintendent of the state highway patrol asked fingerprinting of all school children be made compulsory to facilitate identification of those lost or injured during bombings He pointed out that England had encountered difficulty in identifying lost and injured children.

Representatives attending the conference asked the state to formulate definite rules on which types of people to evacuate to insure uniformity in procedure throughout the state.

DECLINE AGAIN

Sales Tax Receipts Decrease $43,265 Over Last Year.

Retail sales in Richland county last month produced only $43,033 in state sales tax as compared to $61,848 for the month last year.

Collections in the county to May 2 totaled $177,110, a decline of $43,265 from the receipts for the corresponding period last year.

Receipts throughout the state continued their downward trend last month, showing a drop of $587,492 as compared with the collections in April, 1941. State Treasurer Don Ebright reported.

The greatest loss was in the automotive class which showed a revenue slump from $1,395,106 in April, 1941, to $325,052 last month.

60 KILLED IN ECUADOR QUAKE

Temblor Rocks Quayquil, Fires Follow Shock Which Tumbles Buildings.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador—(UP)—A violent earthquake rocked Guayaquil and surrounding territory last night, killing at least 60 persons, smashing three large buildings and disrupting electric communications lines over the metropolitan area.

The temblor lasted one minute in Guayaquil, a city of 96,000 in southwestern Ecuador. Heaviest damage was observed in the downtown area where the three reinforced-concrete buildings were wrecked. A four-story building at the intersection of Pichincha and Sucre streets tumbled within 10 seconds after the first shock.

The quake was followed by numerous fires throughout the damaged area, but most of the blazes were soon brought under control

Cities in interior Ecuador reported less-violent shocks.

Earthquakes are not uncommon along the western coast of South America On May 23, 1940, 350 persons were killed in Callao, Lima and Chorrillos, Chile On Jan. 24, 1939, a quake in central Chile killed 25,000 and caused property destruction estimated at $50,000,000

TEACHERS CLAIM VINDICATION AS OHIO SCHOOL RUMPUS ENDS

(By United Press)

YELLOW SPRINGS — The 300 students of Bryan high school returned to their classrooms today after a four-day "vacation" that ended with settlement of a dispute between the eight teachers, on one side, and the school board and the mayor, on the other.

The faculty members withdrew their signatures and went back to teaching today. In a letter to Faye Fluke, clerk of the Miami township school board, they said they had won their fight for autonomy in disciplinary matters and respect from the community

The teachers announced that the board had upheld their insistence upon expulsion of William Fulton, a student, for misconduct and profanity. Earlier reinstatement of Fulton by the board had caused the teachers to resign last Friday.

The teachers also said that the board had given them a vote of confidence and an apology for "humiliating and unprofessional insults directed at the teachers at the board meeting May 5"

They also accepted a public apology from Mayor Lowell Fess for remarks he made in pamphlets circulated this week Fess, son of the late U S Sen Simeon D. Fess, had referred to the teachers' action as "a strike" and "a disgrace to the community."

Fess said yesterday.

"If anything I have said or written has been construed by the teachers who resigned as an insult or as belittling them, I am sincerely sorry."

The faculty said it appreciated the efforts of Robert Brannum Clark Meredith and Ernest Morgan, school board members, "who have worked sincerely and tirelessly to bring about a satisfactory conclusion to the incident."

"The teachers feel that progress has been made in improving the school relations with the community but that much remains to be done in the direction of establishing an harmonious basis for conducting school affairs," their statement said.

BACK IN CELLS

O. S. R. Inmate Who Escaped 21 Years Ago Returned.

A 44-year-old man who walked away from the Sandusky Honor camp of the Ohio State reformatory 21 years ago was one of two escapees who were brought back to the reformatory late yesterday, Superintendent Arthur L Glattke reported today.

The prisoner is Newman Branham, who was admitted from Athens county on Nov. 23, 1920, to serve a one-to-15 year term for burglary. He escaped from the Sandusky camp on May 20, 1921.

Branham was brought back here on his release from the Kentucky State reformatory at LaGrange, Ky.

The other escapee returned yesterday was John Ohman, 22, who entered the reformatory from Stark county on Nov. 22, 1939, to serve a one-to-15 year term for breaking and entering. He escaped from the institution's Grafton farm April 26 and was captured in Canton this week.

CONDUCT SERVICE

SHELBY—Final religious program of this school term was given today by the high school student council. Rev. R. T. Crowe, pastor of First Church of Christ, was the speaker.

Richland county farmers are too busy this month to take time out for social and organization meetings, according to County Agent George B. Ganyard, so he has scheduled no meetings for May. Despite the demands of their spring work, a number of farmers willingly volunteered to canvass their communities for war bond and stamp pledges, Ganyard said. He added that he had "never seen such a widespread eagerness to help with a program."

HOLD SUSPECT

Mansfielder Jailed in Child Molesting Case.

Taken into custody yesterday on a tip provided officers by a Bellville school bus driver, a 26-year-old Mansfielder was held today by Sheriff Frank E Robinson as a child molester suspect.

It was the fourth time the same man has been arrested by county authorities in the past three years He was twice taken into probate court as a suspected molester, but court records showed the evidence was not sufficient for conviction. No charge had been filed today against the man, pending investigation of the case.

Deputy Sheriff Glenn Freeman said the man confessed late yesterday that he had followed Bellville high school girls home from school on several occasions but he denied he had attempted to harm them.

FOUR HELD IN THEFT OF KITS

Men Charged With Taking Military Supplies for Dope Addicts.

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — Four men, one of them an ex-soldier, were held by San Francisco police today, charged with a conspiracy to steal thousands of medical kits en route to the Pacific war zone and sell them to dope addicts.

The four, Jack Edwards, former soldier; Vincent Maffaro, Michael Badala and Frederick Brandes, were arrested by state division of narcotics inspectors in a San Francisco hotel room. In the room were found 5,000 "syrettes" containing from a half to a quarter-grain of morphine each.

The men were all employed on the transport docks at Fort Mason, and according to a confession reportedly made by Edwards, the syrettes were stolen from supplies bound for the southwest Pacific.

HOTEL BURNS

BIG INDUSTRY MUST CONVERT TO WAR WORK

Small Business Given Lease on Life as U. S. Starts Concentration Plan.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The War Production board took a leaf from Britain's book today and adopted "concentration of production" as a means of keeping essential civilian industries operating for the duration of the war.

Using the $215,000,000 stove industry as a guinea pig, WPB gave small business a new lease on life by ordering large manufacturers of non-electric cooking and heating stoves to stop production July 31 and convert to war work.

After that date, all stove output will be concentrated in smaller companies, less suitable for conversion.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson said the order could be regarded as a clear indication of future policy toward civilian industries which cannot be eliminated entirely from a wartime economy. Following the outlines of Britain's methods, WPB will make every effort to keep small segments of such industries in production.

These segments would manufacture virtually all of the essential civilian goods permitted until the end of the war. Problems of trademarks still are to be worked out, but it was indicated that Nelson leaned strongly toward a single-label procedure which would eliminate all of the well-known trade names and substitute "victory" instead.

Thus, eventually, the stove industry might be producing one type of "victory" stove; a few small typewriter companies might be making "victory" typewriters, and so on. Nelson emphasized, however, that no definite decisions had been made as to industries which will be "concentrated."

In another of its freeze orders, the WPB ordered all sales and deliveries of soft wood construction lumber halted by large producers for 60 days unless the orders come from the army, navy or maritime commission.

The order does not affect stocks in retail yards, which are estimated by the WPB to be sufficient to supply defense housing and essential civilian needs. Nor does it apply to hardwood lumbers or soft wood factory, shop and box lumber.

Dandelion Crop Looms as Source Of U. S. Rubber

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)— American farmers next year may be harvesting a huge and invaluable dandelion crop which will provide rubber for both military and civilian needs, it was predicted today.

That possibility was envisioned in the disclosure by Wheeler McMillen, president of the National Farm Chemurgic council, that Uncle Sam received 139 pounds of the rubber-yielding kok-sagyz seed from Soviet Russia.

The seeds, which arrived in this country by plane, will be distributed among agricultural experiment stations for test planting under direction of Dr. E. W. Brandes, rubber expert for the department of agriculture.

Rubber, it was explained, is contained in the root of kok-sagyz to the extent of 200 pounds per acre. It is extracted by a simple chemical method which doesn't require elaborate or costly processing equipment.

Dr. Paul J. Kolachov, of Louisville, Ky, said: "You can plant this dandelion in April and have tires in October."

POISON EXPERT WINS FAME AS CRIME DOCTOR

Man Who Solved Mass Deaths Declares Arsenic Should Be Pink.

(By United Press)

AUBURN, Ala.—Despite his title of state toxicologist, Dr. Hubert W. Nixon is Alabama's "crime doctor."

In his laboratory in the center of Alabama Polytechnic Institute's tree-shaded campus, he explained how he and his "crime crew" use fingerprinting, ballistics, chemistry, photography, microscopy and "just plain horse sense" to decipher the truth in over 50 criminal cases monthly.

A pioneer in the south in scientific criminology, Nixon's laboratory activities have ranged from the solution of a mass arsenic-flour poisoning to the detection and conviction of a Fort Benning, Ga., soldier who forged a name to an army movie ticket book. The poison investigation led to the electrocution of a Negro. The soldier was given 10 years for his ticket book escapade and other forgeries.

"Speaking of arsenic," said the criminologist, "it should be colored pink.

"Why? Because arsenic looks exactly like flour. It is quite common on farms all over the south, being used to kill boll weevils and potato bugs. But too often and with too tragic results," he said, "it becomes mixed accidentally with flour and other food substances, leading to many needless deaths every year."

During the last session of the Alabama legislature Nixon proposed and supported a bill to do just that—require that all arsenic sold in Alabama contain a distinctive pink coloring. The legislature adjourned before his bill was passed. And ironically enough, there have been additional accidental arsenic deaths since then.

"But," he added, "I'm going to try again next session."

His latest piece of deduction was a case in which he freed an innocent man from a "web of suspicion woven entirely by gossiping neighbors."

It seems that a mail carrier in a rural Alabama county went hunting with his wife. Both were inexperienced in the use of a shotgun and during the expedition he accidentally shot his wife in the back of the head, killing her instantly.

"Prying neighbors," Nixon said, "learned that he carried several thousand dollars in life insurance on his wife. Talk spread, suspicion grew and the neighbors clamored for his arrest."

But, like an episode in a detective novel, the "crime doctor" and his investigators came to the rescue. They found by the pattern of the shot that the mail carrier was too far away for accurate shooting when the gun was discharged. They found that he carried large life insurance policies on himself and all his five children as well as his wife. And they found that the neighbors' talk about "another woman" was groundless.

Tiny French-Owned Colonies Have Had a Unique History

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The two small North Atlantic islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon—tiny fishing colonies which are only remembered for the prohibition bootlegging—are suddenly becoming significant outposts due to their occupation by the Free French forces on last Christmas eve.

Lying only 15 miles from the nearest shores of southern Newfoundland, they are all that remain of the once far-flung French possessions in North America, a bulletin from the National Geographic Society points out.

Rocky and fog-bound, the little islands are separated by a channel four miles wide.

Of the 4,200 French-speaking inhabitants of the colony, 3,400 live in the town of St. Pierre on the east side of that island.

St. Pierre reflects its up-and-down fortune since the first World War. Primarily a fishing community, the colony was hard hit by the post-war decline in the codfish market.

Then, with the advent of prohibition in the States, the merchants directed their energies in another direction. They imported choice beverages from France and sold them to customers who sailed right into port. With the profits they realized from this venture, the inhabitants of the island, which comprise about 90 square miles, built long harbor breakwaters, water supply reservoirs, concrete warehouses, and two macadamized roads.

In the years just before France fell under the Nazis boot in June, 1940, the fisheries so declined that subsidies from the homeland were necessary. Now that contact with France is cut off, the islands are almost completely dependent on Canada and the United States.

St. Pierre and Miquelon are no poet's dream of paradise. The only trees on the islands are dwarfed spruce and juniper, generally only waist-high, and although the surrounding hills are green, the soil is so thin that pasturage for cattle is very scant. On southern St. Pierre are found a few small farms and gardens, but produce here is limited. Fishing for cod in the local waters and on the Newfoundland Grand Banks, plus a little trading, are the only industries.

Winter temperatures rarely drop below zero, but the August high is only about 60 degrees. Because of the strong winds, berets are the adopted headgear.

PATRIOTIC SONG BORN

PASADENA, Cal. —(U.P.)— Ernest Smith, at a local sanitarium, wrote a poem entitled "My Fair America" and sent it to a local paper. Mrs. Pearl E. Lutes liked it and set it to music. The Cine-Mart Music Publishing company heard it sung and published it. And thus a new patriotic number came into being.

THEATERS

Hilarious Comedy.

The hilarious story of a beautiful ballroom entertainer who is the nemesis of every sailor who wants to pursue her is unfolded in "The Fleet's In," fast-moving comedy with music at the Ohio. Through a series of coincidences a genuinely bashful gob catches her fancy and marries the gal. Dorothy Lamour and William Holden have the romantic roles and Eddie Bracken, Betty Hutton and Gil Lamb, harmonica ace and comedian, help provide the laughs. Jimmy Dorsey and his band play an array of hit tunes and the entertainers include Lorraine and Rognan, eccentric dancers.

Unusual Background.

Spectacular sets furnish background for "The Shanghai Gesture," thrill-drama at the Madison. All the paraphernalia usually found in an oriental gambling casino was collected for the picture which features Gene Tierney, Victor Mature, Ona Munson and Walter Huston. The picture deals with the revenge sought by an unscrupulous woman when the new head of a powerful trading company in Shanghai threatens to clean-up the city. Ona Munson plays the woman and Walter Huston the man. Gene Tierney appears as Huston's daughter and Victor Mature as an Arab mystic. "Murder In the Big House," with Faye Emerson is the second attraction.

Honolulu Drama.

"Wings Over Honolulu," Ritz attraction presents Wendy Barrie in the role of a navy wife who almost wrecks her husband's career because she is not acquainted with the customs and taboos of the naval service. Ray Milland plays the young lieutenant and William Gargan is in the cast. Dick Foran, Leo Carillo, and Andy Devine are featured in "The Kid From Kansas," the second picture, deals with the plot of swindlers to oust fruit plantation owners from a South Seas island.

Comedy Theme.

The humorous story of a belated honeymoon taken by a bride and bridgroom portrayed by Zazu Pitts and Slim Summerville is set forth in "Niagara Falls," the Park attraction. Marjorie Woodworth and Tom Brown as a squabbling young couple are also roped in on the honeymoon and the cast includes Margaret Roach and Rand Brooks. A newspaper woman and a special prosecutor get the evidence in "Borrowed Hero," the cofeature with Florence Rice and Alan Baxter.

SCIENCE FINDS 'OWL-EYED' FOLK

People Who See Better at Night Are Studied as Military Aids.

(By Wide World)

ROCHESTER, Minn.—Owl eyes have been discovered in human beings—eyes which by a freak of nature are structurally like an owl's, blinded by light but able to see in the dark.

There may be military possibilities, such as spotting planes or submarines, for the human owl eyes can see a black cat at night in 10 to 20 times less light than the very best normal eyes.

The discovery is reported to the American Physiological Society by Dr. Charles Sheard and Dr. H. L. Bair of the Mayo foundation and the Mayo clinic.

The peculiar human eyes lack the type of nerve endings of sight which see bright light and colors. They possess only the nerve mechanisms which see dim light. In that respect they are almost the same as owl's eyes. To them everything is black or gray, and clear only when the light is dim.

The human owls can look directly at the object which the rest of us can glimpse only from the corner of an eye. They can study this object directly, until they even discern some of its details. And when they do this they can see the object many times better than the best of other human eyes.

The sight of two of these persons has been measured at the Mayo foundation.

These people, to see in daytime, wear dark glasses or stay in shaded places. The trouble tends to run in families, and if possessors of owl eyes can serve in military work, it is possible that many may be found.

RECLAIMS WAGON

KINGSTOWN, R. I. —(U.P.)— To insure delivery of groceries to his customers, Stephen N. Gardiner has reclaimed his ancient wagon from the South County museum, where it has been a loan exhibit. With his recently purchased horse, he plans to make 15 to 20 mile trips to his more distant customers..

WAR RELICS SCRAPPED

MILFORD, N. H. —(U.P.)— Civil war cannon balls and a cannon which mark a memorial plot here, soon will be converted into modern armaments. Voters at the annual town meeting agreed unanimously to turn the relics over to the government for scrap.

29 VETERANS OF O. P. S. HONORED DURING PARTY

Presented With Pins for 5 to 25 Years of Service; Hear Address By Kennedy.

The Ohio Public Service company honored 29 of its veteran Mansfield division employes Wednesday night at the annual May party held at the American Legion home in memory of Henry L. Doherty, founder of the company.

T. O. Kennedy of Cleveland, president of the company, paid tribute to the company employes and other young Americans in the armed forces after first awarding service pins to the employes who have been with the company from five to 25 years.

"You are rendering an important service to our nation's war effort," Kennedy said, "because the electric service which you help to supply is the life blood without which the war industries in our territory and the workers in those industries would be unable to turn a wheeL"

"Collectively through our company," said the president, "we are paying for two bombers every month with the enormous tax bill of more than $10,000 a day which your work makes possible for the Ohio Public Service company to pay."

Special service pins set with small diamonds were awarded five employes who have completed 25 years service with the Ohio Public Service company and its predecessor organizations this year.

They were received by R. D. Iden, distribution superintendent; Frank A. Lieder, turbine room foreman; Herbert M. Landis, yard foreman; John W. Kelser, maintenance man, and Harold J. Fox, boiler room operator.

Twenty-year pins were awarded to Walter M. Johnson, Alva O. Fraley, G. Wesley Russell, Fred Patterson and Louis E. Bletz. Fifteen year pins went to Raymond N. Holmes, Kenneth G. Russell, Ray G. Discus, Cecilia K. Frantz, Floyd Gable, John M. Belt, A. W. Higgins, Walter T. Heldebrand, and George L. Sprang.

Roscoe A. Warden and Myron D. Miller received 10-year pins and five-year pins were awarded to Nellie Drake, John L. Freeland, Marion B. Funk, Richard L. Harper, Wilbur W. Hammett, Merle R. Mowry, Hugh A. McCready and Irene K. Oberlin.

The Mansfield O. P. S. members receiving pins were part of the 204 company employes to receive pins this year. According to President Kennedy more than 17 per cent of the employes have been with the utility for more than 20 years.

J. A. Herbert, vice president and local division manager of the company, acted as toastmaster at the meeting. Entertainment was furnished by an instrumental quartet from Smart's Studio, by Gene and Dorothy Gump, and Ira Metcalf's orchestra which played for dancing.

Fox, another 25-year veteran, was absent when this photograph was taken.

JUNIOR POLICE AID IN DEFENSE

Corps Functions on Same Lines as the Regular Village Department.

(By United Press)

WILMETTE, Ill.—The Junior Police Corps of Wilmette, first organized as an experiment in youth-police relationships, has proved so successful that its members have been asked to co-operate in the village's civilian defense program.

The corps was created February, 1941, in an effort to aid young boys between the ages of 9 and 13 in understanding the organization and duties of the police department. It has received the enthusiastic support of the community's 16,000 citizens.

The Junior Police Corps is organized along regular police department lines. Its officers are chosen by competitive examination in which Wilmette's bicycle and traffic safety code is stressed.

When civilian defense began to loom large in the community, it was decided to give the boys a real chance to prove their mettle.

At first they were designated as the official messengers. Proving satisfactory, they were given the task of collecting waste materials for salvage.

Cloyd C. McGuire, Wilmette chief of police, commenting on the value of the corps, said that since the boys have been engaged in safety campaigning, there has been a 33 per cent decrease in bicycle accidents during a period in which traffic accidents rose by 16 per cent.

Sailplanes for U. S. Gliding Marines

Trapped in Wreck Six Hours

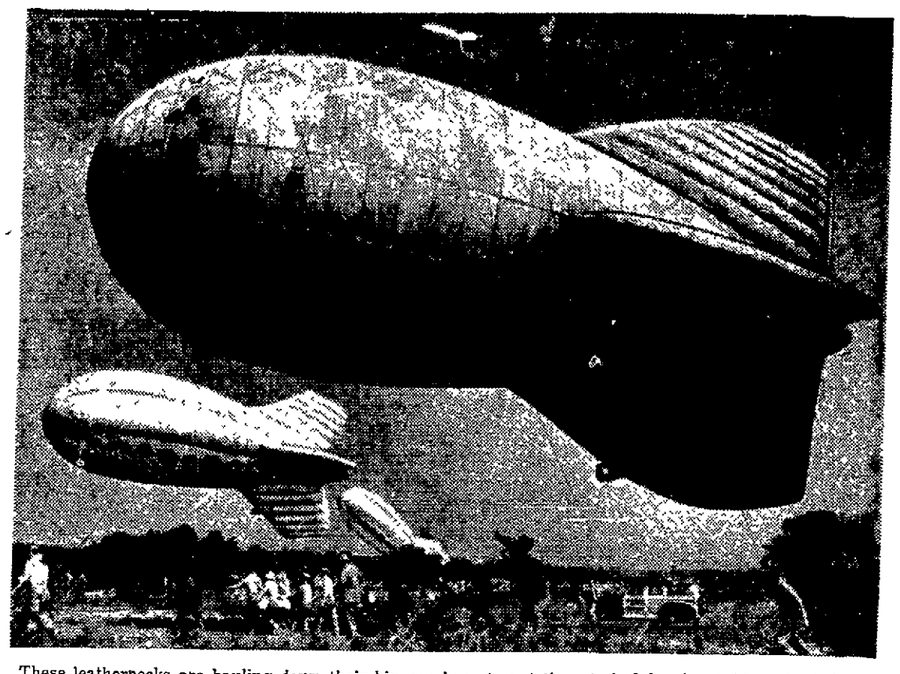
Trapped for nearly six hours in the locomotive cab of a freight train which jumped the rails in Cleveland's flats, John Schaffer, 30, a brakeman of Bellevue, O., is shown during his ordeal as fireman attempted to extricate him. Schaffer, conscious throughout, now is in a hospital where he is expected to recover. The locomotive, tender and nine cars of the 68-car train jumped the track. Cause of the accident remained a mystery.

Put U. S. Marine Flying Pachyderms to Bed



These leathernecks are hauling down their big gas bags to put them to bed for the night at the balloon barrage training grounds at Parris Island, S. C. The flying pachyderms would be of a great hazard to commercial planes if they were permitted to remain aloft after sunset. Ground crews are walking the balloons to their parking area. (Central Press)

Inspects Cuban Army Volunteers

French Flier Missing

Jean Assolant

It was announced in Vichy that Jean Assolant is missing as a result of operations in Madagascar. It is believed that the flier, who gained fame with a trans-Atlantic flight in 1939, was shot down while resisting the invading British.

Hawaiian 'Pineapples' for Japs

U. S. Navy torpedo experts are shown working on some "gifts" that may mean sunset for some of the sons of the Rising Sun, in a workshop of the submarine base in Pearl Harbor. The boys have a personal interest in this dispute with the Japs. Hawaii is determined that never again will it be caught unprepared. (Central Press)

Tanks, Today and Yesterday

Tank that the selectee in the U. S armored forces is familiar with today bears little resemblance to its granddaddy, the little Renault tank of the British Army that made its debut at Cambrai in World War I as one of the surpuses of that conflict. Compared to the great M-4 tank of the U. S. Army today, the first ancestor verges on the comical. There have been many models in between. At the top is a World War I type tank. Center is a medium model T-1, built at the Army's Rock Island arsenal in 1927. It had two turrets, with a machine gun in each, had wooden tracks and weighed 23 tons Below is the M-4, 28-ton chunk of destruction with rounded hull that sheds shells easily. It carries a 75-mm. cannon in a power operated turret that permits firing at any spot on a circle about it.

Winnie Set Style

John H. Morris

Modeled after the "siren suit" worn by Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain during his U. S. visit in January, this air raid warden uniform has been accepted as the official garb for New York City's wardens. John H. Morris, who models it above, designed the suit. It is a navy blue coverall with an orange belt and a blue overseas cap.

Police in New York hold Nathan Ballenberg, 33-year-old furniture salesman, after he confessed, they said, to the strangle-murder of his bride of 17 months in a sudden burst of anger.

Nazis Surrender on Eastern Front

C. P. Radiophoto

This radiophoto from Moscow shows an unusual episode in the war on the Eastern Front. A group of German soldiers are raising their hands in surrender while the bodies of their buddies are strewn around the trench. According to the Russian caption, this group of Germans was found waiting to surrender when the Red Army advanced to capture their trench on the Eastern Front.

Honor Memory of Joan of Arc

Rescued at Sea by U. S. Patrol Plane

Official U. S. Navy Photos

After drifting for twelve days on a raft, Terrence J. Bradley, of Australia and Joseph Bieltiens, a Belgian citizen, eagerly await the approach of a U. S. patrol plane (top). Both were members of a Panamanian ship that was torpedoed off the Atlantic coast. Bradley, weakened by his arduous experience, is shown being carried ashore at Norfolk (bottom). The hardships proved too much for Bieltiens, who died shortly after his rescue. There was plenty of water, but no food aboard the life raft. (Central Press)

Reloading Pacific Patrol Plane's Guns

This P-38 fighter plane, attached to the Pacific Interceptor Command, which has just returned from a patrol flight, is having its tanks refilled and guns reloaded. The Pacific Interceptor Command inspects and reports on unidentified vessels and is prepared to repel enemy air attacks on the U. S. west coast.

Making Bullet Proof Gas Tanks

This large unit is used to vulcanize self-sealing gas tanks for the nation's war planes. The mold containing the sealing tank is lowered into the vulcanizing unit and the huge cover dropped into position before the heat is applied. These tanks eliminate the danger of gasoline fire from hits by incendiary and other bullets. (Central Press)

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Mansfielders who wonder, during the present U. S. O. drive, just how much good their money is doing in providing recreation for Uncle Sam's armed forces, should see the card I got today from Ed Chatlain, physical instructor of naval cadets at Long Beach, Calif.

The former Mansfield high and Wittenberg athletic star writes:

"We are instructors for the cadet classes—you know—drill, exercises, etc. We are managers for all the teams, have a good hard and soft-ball team, and you should see the wonderful equipment the U. S. O. purchased for us. Really fine."

* * *

All bubbling over with enthusiasm for his new job was Chatlain when he stopped off in Mansfield several weeks ago on his way from the Norfolk naval training base to Long Beach.

And now he appears to like it even more than he anticipated. Says Ed: "Sure is swell, and I got a swell job—just like I told you—plus a wee bit more.

* * *

"And the blonds!—strictly Double-A—Dropped in Hollywood a couple weeks ago to see the stars, etc.—that's all for now."

I take it that as soon as Ed has recovered from the Hollywood trip, there will be more.

* * *

The Sporting News this week drops the box scores on the Mid-Atlantic league, making the regular check-up on the doings of former Ohio State league players in that circuit a rather scanty proposition.

But for those who care to read, the dope is there on Mansfielders performing in leagues of higher classification.

* * *

Hank Edwards, sent down by Cleveland to Baltimore, had a fair but not too exciting week for the Orioles, a bit off his opening week standard in the International league when he hit home runs his first two trips to the dish.

Which led his manager to exclaim: "That's fine, but I wish he batted right-handed." Well, whadda ya know?

And Mansfielder Wayne Blackburn, still playing center field for Indianapolis, had a very poor week, getting only one hit in 11 turns, but that isn't his speed, and no one's worried. He's still hitting .359.

Down in Pittsburgh they're saying: "The feather-footed Johnny Barrett has a good chance to be a new Paul Waner in the Pirate scheme.

"Barrett, 20 pounds heavier than Brother Paul, is a left-hander all the way, and like the older of the brothers, Johnny smacks the ball to all fields.

"Frisch recently gave the right field post to Barrett, and while it is uncommon to have a left-handed thrower in that spot, the role has not bothered the youngster.

"In the first showing of the Pirates in Chicago last week, Barrett opened a winning drive with a seventh-inning double off Southpaw Johnny Schmitz and a few minutes later he saved the game for Pittsburgh when he raced into the left field pocket to grab Len Marullo's drive with the bases jammed.

(Barrett was playing left field that day.)

"A few years ago when it was beginning to be apparent that the Waner boys' numbers soon would be up so far as Pittsburgh was concerned, Jewel Ens, then coach of the Pirates, remarked that Pittsburgh could expect some mediocre ball clubs when Paul and Lloyd bowed out.

"And Jewel was correct in a large sense, but Frisch appears to be on the road to a solution of the loss of the sure-fire .300 hitters and de luxe fielders and base runners."

TIMES CHANGE IN SOUTHWEST LOOP

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(AP)—The Southwest conference track records are startling evidence that a fellow has to be a better man than his granddad to get any recognition in 1942.

For instance in 1907 the shot put mark was 37 feet one inch; the discus 106 feet 4½ inches; the pole vault nine feet seven inches, and the broad jump 18 feet 8¾ inches.

Now a fellow has to shove the shot 47 feet, the discus 150, vault 13 feet and broad jump 24 to even get into the finals.

Browns Purchase Dahlgren

Already Own One of Best First Sackers.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

THE St. Louis Browns, who have absolutely no money to spend providing homes for transient ball players, have just purchased for cash a well-known and well-traveled combination first and third baseman named Ellsworth T. (Babe) Dahlgren.

* * *

The Browns already have a talented first baseman in little George McQuinn and an equally competent third-sacker in Harlond Clift and no mirrors are needed to see that the Brownies have in mind some sort of a deal.

This might assume any one of a number of shapes, because at one time or another almost every club in the American league has shown an interest in both Clift and McQuinn. But the most likely tie-ups now would be with Washington, Detroit or Chicago. All three of these clubs could use Clift to advantage. The market on McQuinn has cooled off, but some National league clubs, notably the Boston Braves, could use him and waivers no longer seem an obstacle to inter-league trading.

The chances are the Browns will hold a private auction while the pennant contenders get steamed up to a prosperous pitch. Right now the races in both leagues are becoming feverish.

The Cleveland Indians halted the New York Yankees' seven-game winning streak yesterday, 7-2, and moved within a half game of the American league leaders. Lefty Lovill (Chubby) Dean pitched six-hit ball and handcuffed all the world champions except Joe DiMaggio, who hit his sixth and seventh home runs.

* * *

The Detroit Tigers continued a bloodthirsty third, just a game and a half from the lead, by whipping Washington, 6-2, on the three-hit hurling of Hal Newhouser. The Senators' only scoring came on a two-run homer by Bob Estalella. The victim of the Tigers was Buck Newsom.

The National league squabbling was about equally furious.

Curt Davis, the old righthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, pitched a two-hit spectacle to turn back the Cincinnati Reds, 4-0. The Dodgers took advantage of John Vander Meer's wildness to provide an early lead.

But the Pittsburgh Pirates, who open a three-game series at Brooklyn today, remained 2½ games in the rear by downing the New York Giants, 3-1. Manager Frank Frisch of Pittsburgh was tossed out of the game by an umpire for the third time in a month after he protested a decision at the plate.

The day's most sensational performance was contributed by big Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves, who not only pitched five-hit ball to beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, but hit three home runs to set a major league record for pitchers. His teammates made four errors behind him, but Ernie Lombardi and Eddie Miller also hit home runs.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who had been held to two runs in three games, unleashed a 15-hit assault to beat the Phils, 9-1, with old Lon Warneke pitching five-hit ball.

The Philadelphia Athletics captured their fifth straight victory by a 10-9 count from the Browns and ousted Washington from fifth place in the American league.

The Chicago White Sox set down the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, in ten innings for their third victory in four games. Myril Hoag singled across the winning tally.

Pitcher Hits Three Homers

Jim Tobin, 29-year-old knuckle ball specialist of the Braves, played a hero's role in a game against the White Sox in Boston when he batted three consecutive home runs and pitched the Braves to victory by only allowing the Sox five hits for the game. Tobin is seen at left being congratulated by his teammates after getting his third circuit clout. # SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—Note of unlimited optimism: Boxing Commissioner Bill Brown figures that the gas shortage may be one of those blessings in disguise for the folks affected by it because it will teach them to use their legs again. . . . "When I first opened my health farm," Brown explains, "I used to start with a five-mile walk and after a week or so I'd send them 13 miles around the lake. . . . Now I start them at three miles and they come in with their feet blistered." . . . The way Bill reasons, too many people have become too soft by too much riding. . . . "Another thing," he adds, "we used to have a lot of little neighboring athletic clubs that are all gone now. The boys would go there and spar a little and maybe get a bloody nose, but they made themselves a lot healthier and tougher."

Race hoss trainers will meet at Jamaica tonight and vote on whether they should run their nags barefoot the rest of the season, thus releasing for war uses about 150,000 pounds of horseshoe metal that they couldn't get anyway. . . . Their next task will be to get some spectators down there in these days of rationed gas.

9,459 Keglers Get ABC Coin

Complete Winner List Ready Within Week.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— American Bowlig Congress officials joday began writing checks for 9,459 money winners in the 1942 kegling classic, but the toughest job was still to come—getting contestants to cash the vouchers.

A complete list of awards, totalling $253,895 and ranging from $5 to $1,500, will be announced in a week and checks will go into the mails shortly afterward. But most of them won't return for some time because proud winners usually give every friend an opportunity to view the voucher.

Officials said that every year one per cent of the checks are not cashed, despite a plan for returning them to contestants after they have been cancelled. Winners may obtain the drafts for souvenirs by writing ABC offices in Milwaukee, listing the check number and the award.

The 72-day 42nd annual tournament, biggest in ABC history, ended unspectacularly yesterday as eleventh-hour attempts to displace top contestants failed.

The Chicago Budweisers took top money with a score of 3,131 in the five-man team event; Edward Nowicki and George Baier of Milwaukee copped doubles laurels with 1,377 for $600; John Stanley of Cleveland had 756 for high in the singles and $300, and Tod Moskal of Saginaw, Mich., won $300 first place money in the all-events with 1,973.

The ABC goes to Buffalo, N. Y., next year and will be limited to 50 days. More than half of the 4,500 teams which will be permitted to enter the 1943 meet already have filed applications.

Tygers Swamp Ashland Team

Jones, Lewis Ruled Out Of Dual Meet.

Weakening their lineup in an effort to make the meet interesting, Mansfield high track Tygers still swamped Ashland 89⅝ to 28⅛ in a twilight meet at Stadium field yesterday.

* * *

Lightnin' Jones appeared in strictly an exhibition role as he led the field to the tape in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and also in the shot put, and broad jump.

And Sophomore Bill Lewis ran and won the high hurdles just for fun. He also was regarded as too tough for the A's.

Best mark of the meet was turned in by Pore, the long-striding Mansfield miler, who wheeled the distance in 4:44 to win as handily as ever. Jimmy Smith of Mansfield was second in 4:48, equalling the best time of Pore's previous efforts.

Mansfield took first in every event but the shot put, won by Strang of Ashland with a heave of 44 feet, 8¼ inches.

* * *

The Tygers go to the district meet at Fremont Saturday, boasting an undefeated record in dual meets, marred only by a tie with Newark in the opening meet of the season.

Tars Split Even With Charleston

ERIE, Pa—(AP)—Erie broke into the win column for the second time since the Mid-Atlantic season opened 11 days ago, splitting a double-header last night with league-leading Charleston.

Erie took the seven-inning opener 3 to 2 behind the effective pitching of Ed Onachilla, but the Senators pounded three Erie hurlers for 16 hits to win the nightcap, 10 to 6.

Dayton defeated Canton 6 to 5, as two errors gave the Ducks a run in the first and another error, combined with five hits, was good for four more in the third.

Zanesville, playing at home, downed second-place Springfield 3 to 2 as Pitcher Dan Brainard chalked up his fourth win of the season.

SHELBY SOFTBALL LOOP OPENS SEASON

SHELBY—The Shelby Softball league season will open at 6:15 p. m., Monday at the Municipal water company field on North Gamble street with the Ohio Seamless Tube company playing the Autocall company.

The second game is scheduled for Thursday, May 21. Cliff Maxwell was chosen as umpire.

RIZZUTO ILL

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees was confined to his hotel today with influenza. He was unable to play yesterday and was left behind when the Yanks departed for Detroit, where they open a three-game series today.

Even Cobb Failed to Hit In Last Perfect Baseball Game

By DILLON GRAHAM
(Wide World Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — It was just 20 years ago that baseball saw its last perfect no-hit game. And only the old-timers will remember the pitcher—Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox.

On a sunny, Sunday afternoon, April 30, 1922, in Detroit, Robertson shut-out the terrific thumping Tigers 2-0 and not a single Tiger reached first base.

Throughout the baseball world fans asked. Who is this Robertson? For Charley was an unsung rookie, up from Minneapolis. It was his third major league start. He jumped from obscurity to the hall of fame in one leap.

No one can take that record away from Charley but it is all that he will ever be remembered for, because, otherwise, his diamond career was uneventful and drab. He lasted with the White Sox four years, went to the Browns and passed out of the Big Show. Except for that one afternoon, he was never a star.

Grove, Hubbell, Johnson, Dean, Feller and other great pitchers have come along since but none has been able to duplicate Robertson's feat.

And what about that game?

Detroit was pitching a young ace, Herman Pillette, who had beaten Cleveland twice on successive days the preivous week, and 25,000 filled the stands and overflowed onto the field to see him win. Kid Gleason, the Chicago pilot, was too smart to sacrifice a good pitcher against this sensation. He served up the unheard of recruit, Robertson.

Detroit was the hardest hitting club in the majors, had set a league team batting record the previous year of .316. Its sluggers included such long knockers as Bob Veach, Harry Heilmann, Catcher Manion and the great Ty Cobb.

After five innings of three up and three down, the Tigers began grumbling and kicking. They demanded that the umpire examine Robertson's glove and the glove used by First Baseman Sheely. The arbiter even rubbed his hands over Robertson's uniform and found nothing suspicious.

"Not a trick known to baseball that can be used to rattle a pitcher was neglected," wrote H. G. Salsinger of the Detroit News in a story for Baseball Magazine. But Robertson never wavered nor showed the least sign of concern.

After eight innings, only 24 batters had faced Robertson. Only three balls had been hard hit—a line drive into right by Jones, on which Hooper made a good catch; a low line drive by Veach that Mostil pulled down in left field, and a sharp grounder to Collins by Manion, which Collins fumbled but recovered in time to nip Manion at first.

Came the ninth and Manager Cobb sent up Danny Clark, Detroit's favorite pinch hitter. He went down on three fast balls. Manion hit a weak fly to Collins. Then Bassler, known as the "hardest man in the league to pitch to," went up to hit for Pillette.

"See that little fat guy? Well, he's all that stands between me and a no-hit game. What'll I do? Robertson asked his shortstop.

"Strike him out," advised the infielder.

And the 25-year-old Robertson tried. He threw a slow curve for a strike. Then a fast one, too high. Another fast one and Bassler missed. A fast one, too high. Another fast one and the batter connected. The ball sailed on a line into left field. The fielder leaped and caught it.

Robertson, now living in Texas, was the third pitcher in modern baseball to produce a perfect game. The others were Cy Young and Addie Joss. In many ways Robertson's performance was better than that of the others. For Charley was an untried rookie and his victims were the game's greatest collection of hitters. The A's whom Young beat in 1904, were not famed as sluggers, and Addie's triumph, in 1908, was against the White Sox, then known as the Hitless Wonders.

The secret of Robertson's success was control, the veteran catcher, Ray Schalk, told him what to throw and where to put it—and he did. On nearly every batter Robertson first served his slow curve for a strike. His fast ball broke sharply upward. Only twice did Robertson have a 3 and 2 count on a batter, once on Lu Blue, who struck out, and on Veach, who flied out. Eight players were retired on infield flys or fouls; six on flys to the outfield, six on strikeouts and seven on ground hit balls.

Chubby Dean Halts Yanks

Maintains Old Jinx Over Broadway Bombers.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Off to a flying start on their long home stand, the Cleveland Indians looked forward today to seven games in six days against second division competition.

The rampant Redskins received a rocket boost yesterday when they whipped the league-leading Yankees, 7 to 2, thus cutting the New Yorkers' lead to a half game-ahead of Cleveland.

With the world champions gone from League park, the Indians sent Al Smith against the sixth place Washington Senators, who opened a three-day stand by naming Sid Hudson for mound chores today.

Credit for holding New York to two runs, both of them homers by Joe DiMaggio, went to Alfred Lovill (Chubby) Dean. He permitted six hits and a walk while fanning six.

Meanwhile the Indians divided their nine hits very evenly, everybody getting a safety except Otto Denning. Kenny Keltner took up his slack by cracking two, including a three-run double.

Cleveland tallied three in the fourth on two hits. Hockett walked and Buster Mills singled him to third. Lou Boudreau and Jeff Heath fanned. Mills stole second and Les Fleming walked to fill the sacks. Keltner then cracked a double and when Charlie Keller was unable to hold his drive, three runs crossed the plate. Keltner was caught trying for third.

A final pair of markers came in the next frame on Boudreau's walk and Heath's triple. Heath tallied on Keltner's single.

Brewers Even Blues Series

Get Another Chance To Dislodge Leaders.

Milwaukee's Brewers will get another chance tonight to dislodge Kansas City from the American association lead in the final of a three-game series between the two leaders.

* * *

The Brewers evened the series last night behind the steady pitching of Roxie Lawson, who bested Ray Volpi in a mound duel and whipped the Blues, 5 to 2.

He got some help from Pinch Hitter Ted Gulic, whose single broke up the duel in the 11th inning.

The victory moved Milwaukee within seven percentage points of the Blues who, have a record of 16 wins and six defeats. Milwaukee has won 18 and lost seven.

At Indianapolis, eight Indian and Louisville pitchers had a wild night. Between them they walked 17 men and tossed in three wild pitches. Infielders contributed five errors. Louisville won, 6-3.

Red Munger scored his fourth straight victory for Columbus, 4-3. He allowed Toledo but four hits and accounted for the winning run in the ninth by squeezing home Dib Williams from third base on a bunt.

Minneapolis pounded out 14 hits to turn back St. Paul for a second time, 13 to 5.

Arkansans Need Interpreter For Their Fire Siren

CONWAY, Ark. —(INS)— The residents of Conway need an interpreter for their fire siren.

When it starts shrieking they don't know whether to look for a fire, turn out the lights or bow their heads in prayer.

The siren has been used for years to signal to the citizens that a fire has broken out in their midst.

Then came the war.

The defense council asked that the siren be used as a blackout warning both for the practice drills and the real thing.

Then the ministers of the city—acting in accordance with a request by the Federal Council of Churches—asked that the siren be sounded each evening as a signal for a brief period of prayer and meditation.

As a result, it is all very confusing when the siren suddenly blares forth in the evening.

If one doesn't want to miss something he has to snap out the lights, say a brief prayer and then look for a fire.

SO HE GREW UP

CAMPUSES TURN THEIR SKILLS TO WAR EFFORT

Laboratories Hard at Work Trying to Develop New Power For America.

By SAM JACKSON
(Wide World Features Writer)

PALO ALTO, Calif.—"An engineer who can develop an idea for making an airplane go 20 miles an hour faster is worth as much in this war as a hundred thousand men in uniform."

In those words Ray Layman Wilbur expresses what schoolmen of the country consider their highest duty—to train technical talent for a highly mechanized war.

On his own campus the president of Stanford university already is supervising $100,000 worth of highly secretive wartime research and heads a commission of colleges which have recently dropped some long-standing traditions to concentrate on the job of fighting.

Asserting that the nation "is in danger of losing a college generation," educators of the Ninth Corps Area have drawn up a comprehensive program of wartime co-operation with the military.

It includes running on a continuous year-round basis. This means speeding up education of students prior to their 20th birthday and consequent draft liability. It also eliminates the summer vacation.

More college military and aviation training, use of campus facilities by Army, Navy and civilian defense, and shaping of study courses to aid the war program are all volunteered.

In return, the colleges ask government support for students training for highly technical jobs, and draft deferment for the men competent to teach them.

The war's drain on a university's human resources is exemplified at Stanford, where one-third of the time of the chemistry professors is devoted to war research. In addition, nearly 50 professors are on leave of absence for scientific war jobs.

U. S. ARMY ENGINEERS DEVISE A 'CORDUROY MAT' SYSTEM

(By International News Service)

CAMP EDWARDS—The ingenuity of engineers of Companies A and B of the 26th Infantry division's 101st has passed all tests and the soldiers have been given an A plus.

Both units were put to the task of using every means imaginable to convoy troops, equipment and vehicles across water. They tried everything in the books, then tossed a few new methods to boot.

Company A men won the plaudits. They utilized the "corduroy mat" system for impassable terrain.

The system, a simple and practical application of the established "corduroy road" form of traction, makes it possible for the engineering company to carry its own road in its own trucks. Each truck carries one mat composed of about 20 lengths of scrub pine ties lashed into a bundle. Lengths may vary, but seven-foot has proved best.

The mats are laid side by side over the bog terrain or marsh enabling vehicles to pass with little or no trouble.

Water hazards were overcome with equal effectiveness. Company A engineers discovered a method whereby troops could be transported across a stream without stopping to build a bridge. The engineers have been carrying large wooden toolboxes as part of their equipment for years. They hit upon the idea of utilizing these toolboxes for ferrying purposes in addition to carrying tools. It worked.

TEST REACTION OF POPULATION TO AIR BOMBS

Experiments Are Conducted Daily in Museum at New York.

(By United Press)

NEW YORK—The sound of air bombs exploding and airplanes machine-gunning the streets echo through a lecture room of the New York museum of science and industry almost daily but it is only to test how Mr. and Mrs. Average American will act in an air raid.

The bombs and machine guns are all on a sound track and no one's life is in danger.

Dr. Theodore A. Jackson of the psychology department of Columbia University thought up the idea of imitating at least part of an air raid sequence in an effort to discover what proportion of the population can be expected to behave sensibly in an air raid and what part will "go to pieces."

His tests, Jackson said, might prove valuable in determining how much you can depend on your air raid warden, for example.

"It is in the interest of the community to have people who remain relatively calm to take responsibility in emergencies. Also it is of importance to the individual to know how efficient he is likely to be in a crisis," Jackson said.

Trouble with the first few tests he made was that no one showed much excitement over hearing the air raid siren, the machine-gunning plane, or the dive-bomber swooping down to loose its load—as recorded by the sound track.

The first subjects tested were an actress or two, a dancer, a woman air raid warden, a comptometer operator and a 19-year-old student from the City College of New York—"all people that don't scare very easily," Jackson said.

Simplicity of the tests would make them applicable to children, although none has been tried yet.

First of all, you sit before a board with eight colored lights and eight different keys. An attendant flashes the lights on, and you see how quickly you can shut them off with the keys.

Next you grab two metal cylinders through which runs a tiny electrical current connected with a meter. Someone starts the sound track with an air raid warning siren going full blast, slides into the machine gunning and then the dive-bomber sequence, which ends with a bump and the sound of falling bricks.

The idea is that if you get excited at the noise, your body resistence drops and the hand on the meter moves, showing just how excited you are.

But before he can reach any definite conclusions, Jackson says he must try it on a lot of people, housewives, professional men, laborers, soldiers, and school teachers. After running off a few hundred tests, he believes he will be able to determine how effective they are.

Wyoming Fall Political Drive Officially Opens

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — (INS) — Wyoming's fall political campaign got off to a head start recently as the state's junior senator, Harry H. Schwartz of Casper, announced he was tossing his hat into the ring for re-election in the November voting.

Senator Schwartz followed up his announcement, made through a notice sent to the state Democratic committee in Cheyenne, by mailing an official petition for nomination to Secretary of State L. C. Hunt.

Senator Schwartz added another Democratic member to the Wyoming congressional delegation in 1936 when he won out in the five-man primary race in 1936 and then went on to defeat Senator Robert D. Carey, Republican candidate in the finals.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, the state's senior solon, is also a Democrat, a is Rep. John D. McIntyre, Wyoming's lone member of the lower house.

What About A & P LOW PRICES now that everybody is talking about CEILING PRICES?

- Now, and after May 18th (when ceiling prices become effective), all A&P Super Markets and A&P Food Stores will continue to give you real low prices on fine foods every day, just as they have been doing.
- The new "ceiling price" regulation will not alter in any way A&P's low price policy. This means that every day at A&P you will continue to get the best foods the markets afford at our lowest possible prices.
- And here is another important fact to remember. FOOD PRICES WILL NOT BE IDENTICAL IN ALL FOOD STORES on and after May 18th. Prices will continue to differ in food stores on the same articles—just as they have heretofore.

OUR CUSTOMERS SAVE MONEY

A&P, during the last eight years, has made big reductions in its operating costs. These savings have been passed along to our customers, so that today they have 9c more of every food dollar to spend than they did in 1933.

It is A&P's policy to continue to conduct its business as economically as possible, thus to give to you the utmost for every food dollar you spend at A&P Stores.

HAS SOLUTION FOR PROBLEM OF SOLDIER GIFTS

Easterner Suggests Coupons That Could Be Exchanged For What Men Need.

(By Wide World)

NEW YORK—It may be that Walter J. Seeley of Middletown, N. Y., has found a solution to the perplexing problem of what sort of gifts to send the men in our armed forces, both at home and overseas.

Briefly, the Seeley idea is to have the government issue coupon books in denominations ranging from $1 to $10, with each ticket worth from 5 to 50 cents. These would be negotiable in any army or navy post exchange or ship store—and perhaps in civilian stores, too.

Thus the soldier, sailor, marine or airman could make his own purchases. The boys would not be burdened wth gifts they don't want and can't use. The folk back home would save postage and wouldn't have to worry about whether the boys liked the gifts. And valuable storage space would be saved on ships carrying mail and supplies to the armed forces overseas.

The problem of what to send the boys going overseas—and how to send it—is becoming increasingly greater as more troops are sent abroad. Packages and letters sometimes follow a trooper thousands of miles before catching up with him months later.

If Mom sent her boy a jar of his favorite strawberry preserves or a batch of cookies or a cake, the gift might be spoiled on a 7,000-mile journey.

All these things support the Seeley idea for a book of negotiable tickets, but until some such solution is reached, the next best thing is for people at home to know what to send and what not to send to their boys.

The USO, with suggestions from the army, gives this advice:

Don't send packages or bulky articles. A soldier has little space in his locker and less in his kit.

Don't send perishable foodstuffs or other articles.

Don't send articles which require special facilities for use, such as an electric razor.

Don't send articles of civilian use unsuited to a man in the service. Sweaters, for example, must be such that they can be worn without showing under the uniform.

Don't send still or movie cameras until you have found out whether they are allowed on the post.

For overseas forces:

Don't send chocolate candies or any foodstuffs that are at all perishable. Packages may be months in transit in wartime. Candies that last well are peanut brittle, hard sugar candies such as sour balls and barley sticks. Cookies packed in tins will keep well.

Be sure to address with the man's name, rank, military unit and proper postoffice. Have him send this to you in proper form. There are millions of men in the armed services, and the war and navy departments can't take time to track down a man for a box of cookies.

In the U. S. A.

Remember the soldier can get cigarets and inexpensive candies at the USO clubhouses and army post exchanges. Send candies that are not sold in most places, or the favorite home-made cookie your boy always asked for at home.

Always send letters, the more the better. Send the hometown newspapers. Send photographs of friends and family and sweethearts.

BRIGGS TRAINS WORKERS WITH MOVIES, SLIDES

Films, Books Help 'Convert' Firm's Employes to War Production.

(By United Press)

DETROIT—The Briggs Manufacturing company, builder of automobile bodies in peacetime, is relying heavily on motion pictures, slide films and generously illustrated booklets to help convert its manpower to war production jobs.

With more than $375,000,000 worth of orders for aircraft and tank parts, Briggs will require 36,000 men and women at peak war output, an increase of 50 per cent over its peacetime payrolls. It has seven plants in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

Approximately 20,000 men, most of them former auto body workers and supervisory employes, will be trained in the Briggs aircraft school, according to Henry J. Roesch, in charge of personnel. The firm already is in volume production on airframe sections.

One teacher with a major role in the training program is "Danny Defense," a ubiquitous little man with an overseas cap. "Danny" shows himself on virtually every film and every page of the printed booklets. He teaches workers "the easy way, the right way" to weld, rivet and drill. His three-point program is: "know your job, follow instructions and keep your mind and eyes on the job."

"A pilot is depending on the quality of the work you do today," he tells novices time and again.

One of "Danny's" most effective contributions is dramatizing the story of waste—waste of critical materials such as aluminum. Waste is pictured as the "villain" of the film and "Danny" tells the workers that, in the last analysis, "you fellows have to foot the bill for that waste."

"Your tax money is paying for defense production," "Danny" emphasizes. "If you increase the cost, you're taking money right out of your own pocket. So don't you think it's about time we did something about this enemy, 'waste'?"

Briggs impresses upon its workers that by taking an active interest in the slide-films and motion pictures and by studying the booklets they will be able to learn details about their jobs which took others many "long, hard years."

Auto workers, accustomed to working with steel, need careful instruction before they are able to handle softer metals such as aluminum. A small dent or scratch on the frame of an auto body does not affect the strength of the part: a similar scratch on a piece of soft aluminum in aircraft production will make the piece useless.

WITH REGARD TO A CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The News-Journal meets a need which can hardly be solved in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes, but also courteously acknowledges the service and kindness of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed, or whose names or addresses are not known.
A "Card of Thanks" can now be arranged by telephone: Dial 4251-6, ask for Miss Lane or Miss Stone, either will be glad to render whatever service and advice you need.

MANY LEADERS CONTINUE TO GIVE GROUND

Scattered Stocks Exhibit Steadying Tendencies in Day's Trade.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Scattered stocks exhibited steadier tendencies in today's market proceedings but many leaders continued to give ground.

Up a shade were Woolworth, U. S. Gypsum, General Electric, Standard Oil of Ind, and Sears Roebuck. Fractional declines were posted for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet and American Telephone.

Market contingents scanned the survey of the Engineering News-Record which disclosed that heavy building construction for the week ended Tuesday topped the comparable days a year ago by 142 per cent but was 47 per cent under the record volume of the week before.

Interest also was shown in the Dun & Bradstreet compilation placing this week's bank clearings at 15.9 per cent over the like 1941 period but 11.6 per cent below the previous week. Principal year-to-year percentage increases were reported by Detroit with 46.7, Pittsburgh 30.4, Cleveland 28 5, Portland, Ore., 26.4, Cincinnati 24.1, Kansas City 23.4, Seattle 23 and Chicago 18 as she recently announced her candidacy for congress from the 22nd district.

1,000 Expected for Annual Convention; High Politicos to Give Addresses.

State candidates will be introduced at the Saturday luncheon when A. E. Roberts of Cincinnati, world traveler and Boy Scout executive, will give the main address on the subject, "Democracy Is Not Doomed."

No special issues or platforms requiring action by the federation have been announced beforehand with the exception of the "Adopt a Soldier Son," project that will be explained at the Saturday luncheon.

This is a movement, according to the state federation president, to get home folks, regardless of politics, race or creed, to write letters, send home town papers, cigarets or gifts to local boys serving in the armed forces.

Mansfield Democratic leaders will be in charge of the Friday night program which will be preceded by a board dinner at 6 p. m.

Mrs Edith Metcalf, president of the Dolly Madison club, will welcome the guests at the open program and Atty. John O'Donnell, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Richland county, will introduce the speaker. Louis Bromfield Mrs. Clark Brook is general convention chairman.

DECLARE PAPAL APPEAL GENUINE

Diplomats Say Plea for Peace Uninspired By Axis Bosses.

LONDON—(U.P.)—Diplomats today regarded Pope Pius XII's appeal for peace as a genuine effort to stop the war and not as a move inspired in any fashion by Benito Mussolini or Adolf Hitler.

They said he knew the misery and war weariness of Germany, Italy and the occupied nations and obviously had felt it incumbent upon him to make another effort to halt the conflict.

Informed quarters said his appeal, like others from the Vatican, had no chance of succeeding until the Axis was crushed.

FIRE DESTROYS RUBBER

CHARDON—(AP)—Twenty tons of scrap rubber, purchased before the war, were destroyed by fire along with a saw mill, garage, machine shop and residence, three miles south of here Fire Chief Harry Brannon estimated the loss at $18,000.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Return From Trip — Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Kochenderfer, 81 Rowland avenue, have returned after a two weeks' visit with their son Robert E. Kochenderfer and family, in Minneapolis, Minn.

Jailed for Contempt — Spiros Drainas, 28, of 21½ East Fourth street, was taken into custody by deputy sheriffs last night on a contempt charge after he allegedly failed to pay $5 a week alimony to Mary J. Drainas as ordered by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston.

Arrest Two Motorists — Mansfield police arrested two motorists on speeding charges late yesterday. Wilma K. Peck, 188 Wood street, was charged with driving 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Glessner avenue and was cited to appear in municipal court Monday at 9:30 a. m. Hayden M. Clifford, Spencer R. D. 1, posted $16.50 bond and waived appearance in court after being arrested on a charge of speeding on Park avenue west.

Bicycle Recovered—A few hours after Robert Robertson, 113 LaFayette street, had reported to police that his bicycle was stolen from in front of the U-Save Market at 32 North Walnut street, Robertson told them he had found the bike abandoned on North Walnut street about a block away from the market.

Bombers and Beer

3800 U. S. Bombers can be bought with One Billion, Three Hundred Million Dollars, the Annual Federal tax paid by the alcoholic beverage industry. Schmidt's, alone, paid over $1,750,000.00 in taxes to the Government in 1941.

Schmidt's is one of the biggest selling brands of beer in the Middle West . . . a genuine tribute to brewing quality. It's a modern, smooth, light, yet full-bodied beer that keeps growing in popularity because it's made right and tastes right! Brewed to be low in calories, an 8-oz. glass of Schmidt's is less-fattening than most meal-time drinks. In bottles and on tap at all better dealers.
